Going Back to the Good Old Days!

History repeats itself once more. Victorians in the downtown area now admire two snow-white steeds pulling a cab reminiscent of the nineties. It is the latest sightseeing conveyance of the C. & C. Taxi Service and will make two trips around Marine Drive and Beacon Hill Park daily during the summer.

At the seat of the coach is H. E. Calwell, owner and manager of the taxi service. He drove the first rubber-tired hack in Victoria—45 years ago.

"And here I am, at it again," he remarked.

The coach was formerly the property of William Bray. It has been renovated and the leather and silk upholstery inside is as good as new. It is the first of several which the company plans to use, and carries six passengers besides the driver.

The horses came from Duncan, and with them came several tons of hay. (There are no coupons being issued for this.)

Fred Roberts, veteran driver of the taxi line, will be the driver of the coach during the summer.

New Commander Arrives

'Don't Be Alarmed'—Stuart Japs at Aleutians Pounded

WHERE JAPS BATTLE FOR FOOTHOLD IN ALEUTIAN ISLANDS—Here's Attu village, on Attu Island, at the western tip of North America's chain of Aleutian Islands, where the Japanese have made a small-scale landing in the first effort to gain a foothold in the Western Hemisphere. In breaks of bad weather, however, army and navy airmen succeeded in driving the enemy from the populated regions back into the rocky, snow-covered mountains.

With a message to the people of British Columbia not to be alarmed at the "little invasion" of the Aleutian Islands by small Japanese forces, Canada's highest ranking soldier, Lieut.-Gen. Kenneth Stuart, chief of the general staff, arrived here today to take over temporary command of all defence forces in this area.

"There is no need to worry, even in Prince Rupert, and that is much closer to the islands than this city," Lieut.-Gen. Stuart said.

While he could not speak specifically of his immediate plans the new commander said he was looking forward to his duties here although they would be temporary.

"Principally," he said, "we military men are interested in preventing any comfort from reaching the enemy. We are very much concerned with the morale of the people of Canada and I'm sure it is very heartening to our enemy when we show any sign of even slightly easing our present attitude."

Lieut.-Gen. Stuart spent much of the afternoon conferring with his predecessor, Maj.-Gen. R. O. Alexander, who takes up the duties of inspector general of the army for central Canada July 1, and staff officers of the Pacific Command and M.D. 11.

Associated Press

The Japanese navy appeared today to be reeling under the third smashing attack it has suffered at the hands of the American air force in as many operational areas of the Pacific.

Following up the Coral Sea and Midway Island victories, in the southwestern and middle Pacific areas respectively, the navy department reported American fliers were pounding at a Japanese invasion force off the Aleutian Islands as late as Monday.

JAP CRUISER SUNK

While reports on progress of the battle were inconclusive, Japanese losses listed thus far include one cruiser sunk and one aircraft carrier, at least three cruisers, one destroyer, one gunboat and one transport damaged. Damage to some of the vessels was described as severe.

There were no reports of American losses.

Although it was not mentioned specifically in the naval communiqué, Lt.-Gen. Henry Arnold, army air chief, late Monday said a flight of B-26 bombers had sunk a cruiser in the Aleutians and dropped a torpedo on the deck of a carrier. He made this disclosure in a telegram of congratulations to Glenn L. Martin of Baltimore, builder of the B-26's.

A United States navy communiqué, breaking a three-day silence on the Japanese landings in the bleak, fog-bound island chain, said both army and navy fliers were continuing the attack in a smashing sequel to the earlier victories in the battles of Midway and the Coral Sea.

SITUATION UNCHANGED

"Except for these continuing air attacks upon the enemy landing parties and their supporting naval contingents, the general situation in the Aleutian Islands appears unchanged," the navy said.

This was interpreted to mean the enemy had failed to make any new landings during the week-end after the original thrust into Attu Island, at the westernmost tip of the Aleutians, 2,400 miles from Victoria.

Authoritative quarters said Japanese ships which had entered the harbor of Kiska, in the nearby Rat Islands, had been driven out.

Combined with the Coral Sea and Midway results, the Aleutian operations to date made a total of 19 Japanese ships sunk, three probably sunk, and at least 35 damaged.

Summing up the three actions, military circles said Japan's far-flung invasion forces had been defeated in three major efforts:

1. To cut the Allied supply line through the Coral Sea, as a prelude to invasion of Australia.
2. To capture Midway Island as a springboard for a grand assault on Pearl Harbor.
3. To establish bases in the far north for an invasion of the North American continent.

SOLDIERS RUSHED TO CUT SPRUCE

C. S. Henley of Victoria, special representative in B.C. for the national selective service, announced today labor shortages in British Columbia's vital spruce camps had been filled by soldier-loggers given six months' leave from the forces, and a similar plan to fill labor gaps in war industries is in the tentative stage.

Mr. Henley said the soldiers were sent to spruce camps, chiefly in the Queen Charlotte Islands about three weeks ago.

"The production of spruce was considered so vital that the plan to put the soldiers to work the camps was rushed through," Mr. Henley said.

He is at present making a survey of the labor needs in other vital war industries—including shipyards. When this is complete, he said, it will be submitted to military authorities, who will be asked to sanction filling the gaps with men from the army.

He said, however, this plan was only in the tentative stage.

Lieut.-Gen. Stuart On Air Wednesday

Lt.-General Stuart will make an address on Wednesday evening, beginning at 5.05, P.D.T. The Canadian Broadcasting Corporation will carry the talk.

500 Soldiers Back in Canada

Canadian Press

Their fighting days finished, nearly 500 Canadian soldiers are back in the Dominion, invalided home from front-line posts in Great Britain.

Few, if any, were suffering from wounds. Majority of the soldiers returning because of stomach trouble, or because the damp English climate did not agree with them. Others, distinguished by their bandages, were veterans of mix-ups on blacked-out English roads.

Capt. F. V. C. Ward of Prince Albert, Sask., was returning "because I can't stand the English climate. Also, because authorities think I am too old." In his opinion a lot of men his age in uniform "are trying to cheat the undertaker—and we have been doing a good job so far."

Pte. R. C. Repton was headed for his home in Trail, B.C., that he left 26 months ago. He was suffering from stomach trouble.

Giving the men a welcome were Red Cross officials handing out cigarettes, oranges and chocolate bars. Spr. C. Brady of Calgary could not tear himself away from "the first good piece of chocolate I've had for ages," long enough to explain what was sending him home.

U.S. Concentrates On Carrier Building

WASHINGTON (AP)—An $8,550,000 ship construction program was approved today by the United States House of Representatives naval committee, and Chairman Carl Vinson (Dem.-Ga.) disclosed that work had been deferred temporarily on "four or five battleships in order to concentrate on carriers."

He emphasized the navy had not suspended or abandoned the battleship building program, but declared flatly events of the war had demonstrated conclusively the aircraft carrier "is the backbone of the fleet."

He said the country would need battleships "as long as any other nation has them," and stressed the point there has only been a "deferral on four or five" of the huge craft once regarded as the monarchs of the sea.

The bill, designed to double the size of the fleet, provides for building 500,000 tons of carriers, along with 500,000 tons of cruisers and 900,000 tons of destroyers and destroyers escort vessels.

400,000 Evacuated

LONDON (CP)—L. S. Amery, Secretary for India, announced in the House of Commons today that 400,000 persons, mostly Indians, were evacuated from Burma, and that still more are trying to get out, the BBC said.

2 Axis Battleships Left in Flames

Associated Press

The R.A.F., joined by the United States army air force for the first time in the Mediterranean, set fire to two Italian battleships, sank a 10,000-ton Italian cruiser of the Trento class, and scored hits on a smaller cruiser and a destroyer in four days of heavy fighting, British air headquarters at Cairo announced today in a special communiqué.

In addition, the R.A.F. and the Royal Navy's fleet air arm set fire to another Italian cruiser and probably hit a destroyer in a second Italian naval force during the same period, the communiqué said.

The American airmen were operating the big 4-engine Consolidated B-24 bombers, which the British call Liberators.

(Four American planes which landed in Turkey after a reported raid on Rumania and the Black Sea area last week were the long-range Consolidated B-24's.)

In London the Admiralty and Air Ministry today branded as "without foundation" enemy claims of having sunk large numbers of British warships in the actions in the Mediterranean and stated supplies have been delivered to the garrisons in Malta and Tobruk.

In denying the "fantastic enemy claim" of losses suffered by the convoy and protecting craft, the joint communiqué spoke of the co-operation given to the Royal Navy, merchant marine and R.A.F. by the United States army air corps.

The statement announced, as said a Cairo air communiqué a short time earlier, that an Italian cruiser of the Trento class had been sunk in the action.

Usual Wide Claims By Italians, Nazis

The Italian high command in a communiqué today had admitted the loss of a heavy cruiser, while claiming destruction of an Allied cruiser and two destroyers, the sinking or setting afire of five other Allied vessels and damage to 12 more in a series of naval and air battles in the central Mediterranean Monday.

The fighting, the Italians said, centred around two large British convoys, one east-bound, the other west-bound.

Giving its version of the operations, the German high command in a special communiqué today claimed German air and naval forces had sunk four cruisers and destroyers, probably sunk another destroyer and damaged six other warships in attacks on British convoys in the Mediterranean.

The Nazi announcement said six merchant ships totaling 56,000 tons also were sunk, eight others probably sunk and six damaged and implied that these losses were inflicted on one west-bound convoy and were in addition to those reported by the Italians.

Two other escort vessels were sunk, the communiqué asserted. The 56,000 tons of shipping reported sunk consisted of six merchantmen.

"Besides the already reported great Italian successes against the convoy coming from the Atlantic, the convoy coming from Alexandria, which was strongly escorted, was shattered," the Nazi communiqué said.

First Sighted South of Taranto

The Cairo communiqué, the first British official statement issued on the sea-air operations, and disclosing the United States army naval force participation, gave this account:

"On the evening of June 14 an Italian naval force including two battleships and four destroyers was sighted south of Taranto.

"It was shadowed and, during the following night, was attacked by torpedo planes from Malta and Africa, and by a force of Liberator aircraft, the majority of which were American-manned by the United States army air force.

"The attacks were simultaneous. A number of hits were made on the battleships. Fires were caused.

One Trento cruiser (10,000 tons) was set afire by bombs and sunk by aircraft torpedo. (Cruisers of the Trento class carry eight eight-inch guns and have crews of 725.)

"One six-inch (gun) cruiser and one destroyer also are known to have been hit."

The communiqué then told how a second Italian naval force was spotted near the Italian island of Pantelleria and attacked by torpedo aircraft. One cruiser was hit and set afire and a destroyer probably hit.

Italians Say Cruiser Exploded

The Italian communiqué today said in part:

"In the fighting . . . (June 15) at close quarters, an enemy cruiser exploded and sank in the face of concentrated fire of the Eugenio di Savoia and the Raimondo Montecuccoli. (Italian cruisers of 7,283 and 6,942 tons.) Two enemy destroyers were badly hit.

"An enemy cruiser and destroyer were torpedoed by our destroyers.

"Another enemy destroyer was sunk by our gunfire.

"Axis air forces intervened in the struggle and scored direct hits on the enemy convoy. Four ships were either set on fire or sunk. An enemy gasoline tanker was set afire."

"The other big enemy convoy coming from Alexandria was attacked by bombers and torpedo-carrying planes coming from our air bases in northern Africa and the Aegean.

"An enemy destroyer was sunk and six other units hit . . .

"In naval engagements which took place to the east and west of Malta we lost a heavy cruiser which was first hit by aerial torpedoes and then by sea torpedoes."

Battle Nears Tobruk

Associated Press

The three-week desert battle between British and Axis armies in Libya appeared today to be reaching a finale.

British headquarters said British and South African troops had withdrawn from positions south of Ain el Gazala, 40 miles west of Tobruk, as Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's armored columns attempted to cut off the key British stronghold.

This meant the British army had given up the old Ain el Gazala-Bir Hacheim line of strong boxes and minefields which the Germans first went around, then pierced, and finally reduced one end at a time.

Rommel thus had managed after three weeks of terrific battling to accomplish what he had aimed at in the first few days, the elimination of the British line for a direct attack on Tobruk and its screening position at Acroma and El Adem, just to the south of Tobruk.

Military commentators in London said presumably the units of the British 8th army were being regrouped for a general counter-attack, but there was no sign this had been started. Meanwhile, supplies have been landed at Tobruk.

A British communiqué said the withdrawal from Ain el Gazala was executed successfully by the 50th Division and the South African 1st Division "under cover of a magnificent fight by troops holding positions around Acroma and the 1st Armored Division who beat off determined enemy attacks throughout the whole of June 14."

Acroma is 10 miles west of Tobruk.

In the El Adem sector, south of Tobruk, British headquarters reported three strong Axis attacks Monday were repulsed "with heavy loss to the enemy."

He told the Montreal Reserve Army Week rally that people had told him that training for the Reserve Army should be compulsory.

"Well, I want to say right now that there is no political or administrative reason why that should not be done, but frankly I don't want to do that if we can help it . . . More than that, compulsory training is just a negation of the whole spirit of the Reserve Army."

Chinese Inflict Heavy Casualties As Japs Advance

CHUNGKING (AP)—The Chinese high command announced tonight a further Japanese advance in east Kiangsi province, but indicated the Chinese are exacting a heavy toll from Japanese columns striving to close a pincer on the Chekiang-Kiangsi railway.

The communiqué said the Chinese Kwangfeng, 25 miles within Kiangsi, Sunday after an all-night battle in which the Japanese, thrusting westward along the railway, suffered more than 1,000 casualties.

An army spokesman said the gap between this invading column and another driving eastward through Kiangsi had been reduced to 80 miles.

CHINESE STORM NANCHENG

The communiqué said the Chinese had seized the initiative in the Nancheng region, some 40 miles south of the railway, and were storming the city, which the Japanese captured a few days ago.

A government spokesman urged the immediate launching of a major Pacific offensive should be given at least equal consideration with possible drives in other war theatres.

Japan, he said, may become "the most difficult of the Axis powers to defeat" if the United Nations "continue to be complacent" toward her.

The spokesman prefaced his appeal by asserting Japan's successes could be explained, by what he called the false impression she was the weakest link in the Axis chain.

JAPAN WON'T COLLAPSE

He said he opposed any theory Japan would collapse once Germany was defeated. Although he did not say China would collapse unless help were forthcoming, he declared her situation would be serious.

The spokesman enumerated three objectives of Japanese drives in China:

1. To eliminate remaining United Nations bases which might be used to attack Japan.
2. To seize strategic points for attacking the United Nations;
3. To consolidate dominated areas and develop their resources.

South African Coast Blackout Unexplained

Principles Outlined

Health Insurance Plan Suggested by Doctors

JASPER, Alta. (CP)—The general council of the Canadian Medical Association, in session here, held a lengthy discussion on the adoption of a health insurance scheme in Canada.

The councillors were informed the federal government had been studying the question of health insurance and had asked the medical profession for its reaction to a Dominion health scheme.

On this basis, the councillors laid down several principles which they felt should be embodied in a health insurance plan and also expressed eagerness and willingness to co-operate in the formation of legislation for the adoption of health insurance.

CHOICE OF PHYSICIANS

Among principles laid down were:

1. All insured persons should be allowed to choose their own doctors.
2. Administration of the insurance should be under independent health insurance commissions.
3. Indigents should be cared for under the scheme, with their premiums paid by the government.
4. The plan would be compulsory for those whose income is lower than would allow for adequate medical care.
5. The scheme would provide for additional specialist services.
6. No economic barrier should be interposed between doctor and patient.
7. Best possible standard of service to be required of the profession and remuneration of the profession should be consistent therewith.

CONTRIBUTORY SCHEME

The meeting was told that money for the setting up of the system should come from the government, the insured man and the employer of the insured man.

Don't be the missing man.

You Can Make a Big Saving By Dyeing Your Own Hair

It is now so easy, safe, simple and economical to get rid of grey hair that men and women with greying locks need hesitate no longer because of the expense of dyeing the hair and keeping it touched up. The Oxi dye recipe given below takes out the risk, and enables anyone to get a real professional-looking job at home, at a fraction of the expense usually involved.

Here is the money-saving recipe: Get from your druggist one-fourth ounce glycerine, one ounce bay rum and one box Oxi Compound. Mix these in a half pint of water, or your druggist will prepare for you at small cost. This gives you a generous size bottle of one of the best grey hair preparations you can use. Simply comb it into the hair several times a week. A rich, natural-looking color is soon imparted to grey, streaked, faded hair. Best of all this shade may be maintained for just a few cents a week. Oxi will not wash out or rub off. Being colorless it does not stain the scalp; will not affect permanent waves. Is not sticky or greasy and leaves the hair soft and glossy. You will be amazed how many years younger you will look and how easily, safely and economically you can eliminate all traces of greying hair. Try the Oxi recipe today. (Adv.)

Take Huge Toll of Germans

Reds Balk Ukraine Drive, Smash Nazis at Sevastopol

Associated Press
Hitler's field headquarters indicated today that Axis troops had met a stonewall defence in their 11-day assault on Sevastopol, Soviet Black Sea naval base.

The Nazi command said the battle had died down, with only minor fighting going on, while the Russians declared Red army troops supported by Red navy marines had thrown back a series of furious attacks by German and Rumanian troops.

"A detachment of marines yesterday broke into the enemy trenches and killed 250 Hitlerites," the Russian high command said.

On the Kharkov front, scene of a renewed German offensive, Hitler's command claimed Nazi forces had extended a bridgehead across the Donets River and swung northward. But the Russians reported their hill-top defences had frustrated a three-day German attack seeking to cross the river and throw the Germans back on the defensive. The Soviet command said 180 German tanks were destroyed or damaged Monday. Tass reported the invaders struggled all day to gain one-third of a mile, only to be hurled back.

On that battlefield a single Soviet tank set fire to six enemy tanks, put four others out of action, then burst into the ranks of German infantry and crushed or shot 70 men, despite the fact it had been hit 18 times, Tass reported.

Big Bertha Fights, But Foiled

Around Sevastopol the Germans had massed seven artillery regiments on their main line of assault in an effort to batter down the Russian fortifications, the Russians said.

The German cannon include one of the big Berthas such as those with which the Kaiser's troops shelled Paris during the first Great War, dispatches said, but despite the weight of artillery the Red army forces are holding firmly to their rockbound positions.

Tass said the Germans were using at least seven infantry divisions and more than 150 tanks against Sevastopol in addition to the artillery.

In repulsing the repeated heavy German assaults, the agency said, the Sevastopol garrison in a single day destroyed 40 tanks and killed the major part of three regiments of infantry, while Soviet planes burned 10 tanks, knocked out 12 more and smashed 13 trucks loaded with infantry.

950 Fascists Litter Red Approaches

"The approaches to our advanced line were littered with the bodies of Fascist officers and men," Tass said, with 950 counted in one small sector.

Tass warned, however, "the situation remains tense."

Having lost heavily in audacious tank charges, the Germans now are sending their tanks cautiously forward to take up stationary positions and use their guns to cover infantry assaults, Tass said.

A German communique claimed a Soviet destroyer was sunk in the southern harbor at Sevastopol.

The Nazi communique said Moscow, the Soviet capital, was bombed by German planes Monday. Airdromes and railway stations being the objectives.

Strong bomber formations also raided airdromes near Murmansk and scored direct hits on the railway near Kandalaksha, said the communique.

Woman Heads Mother Church

BOSTON—At the annual meeting of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, here the visitors were reminded in a report by the Christian Science Board of Lectureship that the union of Britain and America was foreseen 44 years ago by Mary Baker Eddy, discoverer and founder of Christian Science, as the instrument through which the rights of free peoples everywhere might be established and protected.

NEW PRESIDENT

The directors announced election of Mrs. Elisabeth F. Norwood, Brookline, Mass., as president of the Mother Church for the ensuing year. She is the daughter of Isaac Paul Gragg, who served throughout the Civil War and was given the rank of captain by brevet for gallant and meritorious services. Her mother, Mrs. Eldora O. Gragg, C.S.D., was one of 12 students of Mrs. Eddy's chosen by her to form the Mother Church. She was also the first woman reader in the church.

Mrs. Norwood was born in Roxbury, Mass., and received her early education in the Girls Latin School of Boston and in private schools. She was a member of the normal class of the board of education of the Massachusetts Metaphysical College in 1922.

Black Sea

thus becoming a teacher of Christian Science. She also served as second reader in the Mother Church from June, 1929, to June, 1932.

To the incoming president the times appeared to constitute a challenge to Christian Scientists to face unflinchingly "a duty beyond anything they have ever before been called upon to face."

Yet in the face of this duty, she said, there is the authority of the Bible that "the Lord's hand is not shortened that it cannot save" and that "Christ's Christianity will free mankind from the bondage in which it is being held."

John Randall Dunn, retiring president, also referred to the times as an opportunity to prove that "the healing Christ is here, and that the light of truth not only banishes the darkness of disease and sin, but can nullify all the hypnotic suggestions of the carnal mind, which seem to be working such mischief among the sons of men."

The report of the board of lectureship, read by Gavin W. Allan, referred to the recent statement of Winston Churchill, Prime Minister of Great Britain, "Never in the field of human conflict was so much owed by so many to so few," as a perfect phrasing. But lifting this phrasing out of the setting of war, the board felt that it could apply to Mrs. Eddy and her small group of followers who, a half-century ago, worked for the establishment of a vision that sought to bless all mankind.

CLOSE CHURCHES

Today the board found that the establishment of Christian Science in some countries was being limited by the dictators, that some churches and institutions were being closed and confiscated. "But wherever multitudes of plain people in ordinary, everyday living cherish and practice the truths of their religion," the board said, "its resurrection is assured."

Reports of increasing wartime interest in religion were accentuated by announcement of the trustees of the Christian Science Publishing Society that the sale of Bibles this year "are the largest in the history of the Publishing Society." Increased circulation of The Christian Science Journal, The Christian Science Sentinel and The Christian Science Monitor was also reported for the last 12 months.

Tried to Supply U-Boats

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Special government agents who arrested Alberto Barradas Lagunes, 42, in the Mexican Gulf port of Vera Cruz today accused him of trying to arrange a fuel oil supply for submarines in the Gulf of Mexico.

Police Chief Miguel Z. Martinez said a Japanese, who was being sought, supplied the money with which Barradas allegedly attempted to get three Cubans to make a trip to sea in their boat with a supply of diesel oil. Actual charges against Barradas were fomenting unrest and possessing false passports.

Don't be the missing man.

Alaska to Get Civilian Defence

WASHINGTON (AP)—Immediate organization of an Alaskan war council to mobilize civilian manpower and resources to support defence of that territory was directed today by Interior Secretary Harold Ickes.

Governor Ernest Gruening will be chairman of the council, which will co-operate closely with military authorities in putting the territory on a full preparedness footing.

President Roosevelt's authorization of the council stated it should be the duty of the council to maintain close liaison with the military authorities to bring the conduct of federal civil activities into closest possible conformity with military requirements.

The council will have authority to "make such recommendations to the military and other federal authorities as it deems desirable relative to co-ordination of federal civil activities with the military program and to the safety and security of the civilian population of Alaska."

Nazi Claims

BERLIN (From German Broadcasts, AP)—The German high command claimed today that in a Channel clash Monday a British force attacked a German convoy but was "repulsed" three times by light German naval forces.

Hitler's Plans

A detailed description of Hitler's plan for world domination, and inside stories of present-day Germany are being shown in "Geopolitik," the latest film in the "Canada Carries On" series now being shown at the Capitol Theatre.

Presenting a general review of the war situation on all fronts, the picture depicts the heavy responsibilities now on the shoulders of the Allied Nations. It stresses the point that Hitler knows, and dreads, the growing sea power of the United Nations, and shows naval strongholds of the British, including Malta and Gibraltar.

Proving that there is definitely a "war of wits" existing between the fighting countries, the reels show some of the ways and means that have been adopted to fool and deceive the enemy in the past.

The film is a combination of captured German pictures and Canadian and British releases. It brings to the public the latest developments on the war fronts of the globe.

WEATHER SLOWS JAP REMOVAL

VANCOUVER (CP)—British Columbia Security Commission officials said today interruption of rail service between Vancouver and Nelson has slowed the removal of Japanese from the B.C. coastal defence zone.

Inability to secure lumber and repairs, necessary to put former "ghost" towns in condition for occupancy by the Japanese, also has presented difficulties.

The next large community of Japanese to be formed will be at Sandon, B.C., 30 miles north of Nelson. It is expected about 1,300 Japanese will be accommodated there, commission officials said.

Assistant Commissioner F. J. Mead of the R.C.M.P. and member of the three-man commission, and Dr. Lyall Hodgins of Vancouver, commission medical advisor, will leave Winnipeg tonight for Ottawa to report to the Department of Labor on the suitability of Indian residential schools in British Columbia, Alberta and Manitoba for Japanese evacuees.

Bombs Find Mark From 20,000 Feet

SEATTLE (AP)—Bombs dropped from Flying Fortresses at an altitude of 20,000 feet, Lieut. Gen. H. H. Arnold, commanding general of the army air forces, disclosed in a message today to President P. G. Johnson of the Boeing Aircraft Company, scored direct hits on two Japanese aircraft carriers in the action off Midway Island.

The Fortresses' crews also "finished off another carrier found smoking, and attacked a cruiser, which was left in flames," Gen. Arnold's congratulatory message said.

"In addition, the magnificent airplanes you sent us shot down eight Japanese aircraft and withstood the withering fire of the enemy without a single loss."

Gen. Arnold also disclosed the planes had been in use in the Aleutian Islands, in scouting work against Japanese forces far out in the island chain.

Peer Asks Election

HULL, Eng. (CP)—Lord Strabolgi in an address today advocated a general election and formation of "a constructive and patriotic opposition."

Work-Clothiers Lose Nonessentials

OTTAWA (CP)—The Wartime Prices and Trade Board extended its economy program today to work clothing, leather garments and cotton-sportswear.

All unnecessary frills in manufacture of this apparel, the board said, have been eliminated under an order issued by A. Bradshaw, administrator of work clothing, on recommendation of an advisory committee of the industry.

Affected are overalls, smocks, shop coats, dungarees, work shirts, men's cotton work pants and sport pants, boys' cotton long pants, breeches and shorts, leather jackets, windbreakers, ski slacks and bush coats.

Some of the economies ordered include elimination of cuffs and excessively long legs on men's cotton work trousers; flaps on pockets, pleats on trousers, wasteful tunnel belt loops, unnecessary wide legs, military pleats on pockets, sewing on woven lapels and pocket reinforcements. Unnecessary buttons also are forbidden. Zipper fasteners are still permissible on windbreakers, combinations and a few other clothing articles.

Island Hay Crops Need Hot Weather

Vancouver Island hay has taken a beating by the heavy consistent rains of recent days, but the crop is by no means ruined, officials of the Department of Agriculture said today. Hay needs moisture for good growth; much more, however, as the crop is nearing the cutting stage, would play havoc. Farmers are now praying for some hot weather to bring their hay along.

Dr. T. T. Shields Says Villeneuve Rules Canada

VANCOUVER (CP)—An organization meeting of the Canadian Protestant League was held in Ruth Martin Memorial (Baptist) Church here Monday and was addressed by Rev. Dr. T. T. Shields, league president, who renewed charges against the Roman Catholic Church made in an address last Wednesday at Winnipeg.
Congregation of the meeting was invited by letter. A booklet distributed said the league was formed in Toronto at a mass meeting in Jarvis Street Baptist Church Sept. 18, 1941, by a "group of Protestant ministers and laymen alarmed by the increasing breadth and intensity of the aggression of the Roman Catholic Church in Canada," culminating in the holding of pontifical mass at the entrance to the Peace Tower in the House of Commons, Ottawa.

Dr. Shields, pastor of the Jarvis Street Church, said a picture of that mass "was published throughout the world, giving the impression Canada is a Roman Catholic country."
He said he believed the Roman Catholic faith "the most potent agency for evil in all the wide, wide world" and that the "real prime minister (of Canada) is Cardinal Villeneuve," Archbishop of Quebec. "For that reason we have no consecration... only a half-hearted war effort."

He said "Rome Catholicism is not a form of Christianity; it is a negation of Christianity," and declared that "every one of the leaders of the Axis powers, without exception, is a Roman Catholic."

"Not a married man or woman here is really married in the eyes of the Catholic Church," said Dr. Shields. "That is a sacrament that can be performed only by a priest. A damnable assumption. It is a wonder people do not rise up in rebellion."

Dr. Shields is on his way to speak at anti-Catholic gatherings in Victoria next Sunday and Monday.

Canada's New Method

Army Lottery On District Basis

OTTAWA (CP)—Call-up of men by lot for compulsory military training will start next month without fuss or show, it is learned at the department of national war services.
No public drawing of names from a hat or beans from a jar is contemplated as the compulsory call-up of men switches from the selective system in effect so far to the lottery system. The lottery will work on a divisional basis. The registrar of each war services division will form a pool of the men in the age classes liable to compulsory service in his division and draw the names of the number required each month from the pool.

SHIFTS BASIS
The selection of the men to be called in any given month will thus change to a basis of chance. Up to now they have been selected with a view to distributing the call-up equally through all localities in a particular division. One of the results of the change may be that four or five young men will be called up in one month from one village while in another village nearly none may be called although there are an equal number in the callable class.

Back From Britain
VANCOUVER (CP)—Wing-Comdr. A. C. Pitt Clayton, D.F.C. and bar, is back at his home in Vancouver for his first visit in 3½ years.

A veteran of the Battle of Britain, Clayton will spend about a week with his mother, Mrs. F. K. Clayton, before going to Washington, where he is to report June 27. Eventually he will assume the duties of chief instructor of an operational training unit in New Mexico.
"Mighty pleased to be back, and I am sorry that I can't be here longer," he said.
Wing-Comdr. Clayton said he left Britain the morning after the 1,000-plane attack on Cologne, and that he did not take part in that raid.
However, he said he had taken part in 56 raids on Germany or Nazi-held territory, and added that "I guess I covered enemy territory pretty thoroughly."
Ontario is the source of 53 per cent of the flour and feed mill production of Canada.

Medals Returned to Japan With Bomb

NEW YORK (AP)—The chronology of two medals:
Oct. 9, 1908—The Emperor of Japan presented them to Master Rigger Henry Vormstein of Lakeview, N.Y., and Shipwright John Laurey of Brooklyn, seamen on the U.S.S. Connecticut when the United States battle fleet visited Japan.
Jan. 26, 1942—Vormstein and Laurey sent them to Navy Secretary Frank Knox and asked that they be returned, attached to a bomb.
Jan. 26, 1942—A letter from the Navy Secretary to the chief of bureau of ordnance:
"Subject—Two medals, return to Japan."
"1. Forwarded for appropriate action in consonance with the request."
April 18, 1942—Mission fulfilled.
Official correspondence released today by naval authorities here read:
"From: Secretary of the Navy.
"To: Master Rigger H. Vormstein, Navy Yard, New York.
"Via: Commandant, New York Navy Yard.
"Subject: Medals—delivery off to Japan."
"Reference: (A) Your letter of Jan. 26, 1942.
"1. Through the courtesy of the War Department your Japanese medal and a similar medal turned in for shipment by Shipwright John Laurey were returned to the Emperor of Japan on 18 April, 1942.
"2. I am informed by the Secretary of War that the medals, attached to a 500-pound bomb, were delivered at Tokyo on 18 April, 1942, by Lieut. Ted Lawson, U.S. Army, with appropriate ceremony.
"(Signed) FRANK KNOX."
Laurey now is at Pearl Harbor. He volunteered on the first call for civilian workers to repair damage done by the Japanese.

JAPS EDGE IN, SAYS SENATOR

LOS ANGELES (AP)—"I am tired of hearing enemy advances minimized," Senator M. C. Wallgren, Democrat—Washington State, said Monday.
"I don't know what's got to happen before people become aroused—and I don't mean the general public.
"Can't they see the Japs are edging in? Edging in is what the Nazis did in Holland, Belgium and other countries.
"We've got to get the Japs out of the Aleutian Islands. We can't afford to allow the Japanese to keep soldiers on our soil."
Senator Wallgren was en route to the Aleutians on an inspection trip as a member of the Truman committee investigating the war effort when the Japs raided Dutch Harbor. He came here instead.
He told reporters he was pleased with production, but added this warning note:
"We are stepping up our plans and extending the range of our planes constantly. But the Japs must be doing the same thing. At the rate this is going on, it won't be long before there is not a plane carrier left, and all nations will have to operate their air power from land bases."
The United States reported the loss of the carrier Lexington in the Coral Sea and reported it destroyed or damaged three Japanese carriers in the Coral Sea and Midway battles.

Ontario Homes To Quit Gas Heating

OTTAWA (CP)—Widespread restrictions on gas heating in southwestern Ontario have been announced by the Munitions and Supply Department.
Three drastic orders issued by Power Controller H. J. Symington and approved by R. C. Berks, chairman of the Wartime Industries Control Board, will compel a large number of homes, office buildings, churches, schools and other buildings to change from natural gas heating to coal.
This action is expected to boost by many millions of cubic feet the amount of gas available for blast furnaces and other processing equipment in war plants in the highly industrialized area south and west of a line drawn roughly from Hamilton Bay to Galt and Sarnia, the department's announcement said.

MacInnis Scores Premier's Book

OTTAWA (CP)—The title of a book written by Prime Minister Mackenzie King was "as good an expression of apron-tying colonialism as any imperialist could wish for," Angus MacInnis, C.C.F., Vancouver East, told the House of Commons Monday night.
The present government had fostered ideas that English-speaking Canada was in the war mainly because of its British connections, Mr. MacInnis said. He could give many illustrations.
"Some months ago the Prime Minister published a book of his war speeches. The title of the book (was) 'Canada at Britain's Side.' That title to my mind is as good an expression of apron-tying colonialism as any imperialist could wish for," he said.
"Taken as the title of a collection of his war speeches by a man who, since the passing of the Statute of Westminster, has continually reminded us of Canada's equality with Great Britain as a member of the British Commonwealth of Nations, it is bad enough, but when one learns that the title of the French edition of the same book is 'Le Canada et la Guerre' which is, I believe, translated into English, 'Canada and the War,' the thing is beyond comprehension."
"But it does explain to some extent why today we have disunity in Canada."
"It is and has long been the accepted policy of this government to say one thing in the province of Quebec and another thing in the other provinces, and not always the same thing in every province."

More Troops on Madagascar

It reported an Athens newspaper announcement of a "large number" shot the day after the German June 4 communiqué said 300 hostages had been taken. Five persons, it added, were shot late in May for attacks on Italian soldiers and four others for attempts to flee abroad.
Greek authorities in Turkey were said to have received reports that Bulgarian troops recently had killed 130 Greeks in the Kilikis district.

Ships the Problem

NOT MANY MONTHS AGO THE CHIEF worry of the United Nations was the production of war materials—planes, tanks, guns and shells. If only output could be accelerated, we told ourselves, the road to eventual victory would be appreciably shortened. But production of much of the paraphernalia required by the fighting services is no longer the problem it once was. Planes, tanks, guns and shells are rolling out of anti-Axis factories in ever-increasing quantities; even the skeptics in Canada who look at this country's war effort through political glasses reluctantly admit the truth of this statement. Nevertheless there has been a tendency in some quarters either to ignore or to forget the growing seriousness of the transportation problem; it is acute.

Existing circumstances are not pleasant. We are losing more ships than we are building. To be sure, our neighbor's program for 8,000,000 tons in 1942 and 15,000,000 tons in 1943 is reliably reported to be running according to schedule. But it is an accepted fact in Washington that the success of the entire war effort of the United States—not to mention hopes of opening a second front—depends upon the full utilization of all the ships now available. Laying down two or three keels a day is not a problem; finishing the ships and putting them into commission is. Canada and the United States are suffering from a shortage of steel; it will be some months before expansion plans yield results commensurate with the needs of both countries. Piles of valuable fighting equipment, finished and ready for use, are increasing in size because of the lack of ships to carry it to the various theatres of war. In some cases in the United States, indeed, a considerable distance has been put between this material and the factories producing it because of the effect on the workers the daily sight of it might well have.

The truth of the matter is we are not winning the Battle of the Atlantic—north or south. Unless the submarine menace is countered to an appreciable extent within a few weeks we shall have to make up our minds to the prospect of an extended and bitter struggle. Small wonder those who are charged with the vital task of getting more ships into the water pity unimaginative folk in this country whose main complaint is Mr. Mackenzie King's reluctance to conscript men for overseas service. The fact that practically every battle lost by the anti-Axis forces can be ascribed to lack of equipment rather than the lack of manpower is conveniently ignored. China has the men. Russia has the men. The United Nations have the equipment; but the big job is to deliver it where it can be used effectively. In other words, production will not win the war unless the ships can be found to take the material to the fighting men, and it is the various lifelines which the totalitarians have set their minds on disrupting by unrestricted under-water warfare.

Labor Shortages

BERRY CROWERS OF THE FRASER Valley have appealed directly to Premier Hart to draft the resources of all government departments to recruit 1,000 berry pickers within five days—according to a statement made public last Saturday.

While this is part of the pattern—a short, seasonal one—of a national deficiency in available workers for agriculture in the coming months, it draws attention to a situation which is likely to grow worse as the year advances. It underscores again the urgent necessity of a scheme for manpower diversion that will meet all requirements of our war and general economy.

Even the great aluminum plant at Arvida in Quebec has had to resort to a nightly radio broadcast to get more workers for one of the nation's most vital industries. Why this should be necessary is not clear—unless there is more money for workers elsewhere.

Who Will Get Fuel Oil?

NOW IT IS ANNOUNCED THAT THE modified fuel oil order, which has been expected daily for two weeks, will not be issued for another two weeks. This delay encourages the hope that the order will not be as drastic against the householder as at first indicated in Mr. Howe's "scare" announcement in Parliament.

For many it would be costly to change over from oil and for some it would be impossible because equipment is not available. The government is giving these cases consideration, since it was discovered that as long as gasoline is being produced in Canada there will be fuel oil. Roughly, in the cracking of crude oil, after taking off the gasoline and other lighter compounds, there is a 25 per cent residual, to be disposed of as fuel oil. War industries require an increasing amount of this fuel oil, but still a fair quantity is left. Until war industries require all of it, there is no reason why it should not be apportioned among domestic users, saving them the expense of converting their furnaces.

Also, there is now the threat of a coal shortage. The fuel controller finds that already he is being called on for 2,000,000 tons more coal. There is talk of coal rationing. On this coast there is a near-crisis in the matter of sawdust supply. Each oil user who is forced to coal or sawdust adds to the coal and sawdust problem. Ottawa is therefore acting wisely in not rushing any further change-over order to householders using fuel oil until all the facts in the situation are understood.

Bouquets for B.C.

WHILE WAR FINANCING IN THIS and other countries has accustomed us to astronomical figures, so much so that the refunding of a debt amounting to a comparatively few millions leaves us almost cold, it is gratifying to note that Premier Hart's arrangement for the Pacific Great Eastern's bonds has evoked complimentary references in Canadian business circles. The Financial Post of Toronto seems to sum up the general view held in the unemotional realm of finance. It says in part:

"It takes real progress in provincial financing to be able to cut three-eighths of 1 per cent off the cost of borrowing during wartime, but this is what British Columbia has done under the Premiership of Hon. John Hart. Perhaps even more indicative of the changed regard in which investors hold British Columbia's securities is the fact that this latest issue was sold in half a day. In October, 1940, British Columbia offered $5.1 millions of debentures and it took two and a half months to dispose of the issue."

The Financial Post naturally realizes there were certain factors which contributed to the success of the latest offering, such as the scarcity of high-grade bonds and practically no new offerings, but while "these and other facts helped," they "would have been able to do little had there not been a fundamental improvement in the province's position over the past several years." For British Columbia's sound policy of debt reduction since 1933, the Toronto paper has complimentary remarks and notes, in general, that this "has done much to strengthen investor confidence in the obligations of Canada's provinces."

Abolish the Tariff

MR. ILSLEY IS NOW BUSY ON CANADA's next budget; he has not announced the date of its presentation in the House of Commons; it cannot be long delayed. Recognized always—at least before he became the Dominion's Minister of Finance—as a low tariff man, he has now another opportunity of paving the way for Canada's application of one of the important principles laid down in the Atlantic Charter. He can say to those British exporters who still have goods for sale abroad, particularly the manufacturers of woollens, worsteds, boots and shoes, that he will demolish the Canadian tariff wall which these commodities find it extremely difficult to scale. He has a good reason for taking such a course.

High protectionism as a political policy is now out of date. And unless the end of the war brings with it a large-scale resumption of international trade—which it must—no peace settlement arrived at can be expected to endure. Surely neither Mr. Ilesley nor the government feels comfortable about the gift of $1,000,000,000 to Great Britain so long as the nation's policy tells those British exporters with a few woollen goods to sell in return for huge purchases of war materials from Canada that they must still jump over a tariff wall as high as Haman's gallows. The Minister of Finance has an excellent opportunity to set an example which the public will approve.

Most of Great Britain's industrial machine has been converted into production exclusively for war. But the Old Land is still delivering goods to many countries in the world; her manufacturers are advertising, for example, in United States and Latin American periodicals. Some of them frankly admit they have nothing for sale at the moment, but are anxious to keep their names and brands before the consuming public, in anticipation of the business that will offer after the clang of battle has ceased.

If we could get planes there to save the Chinese and don't, we'll pay in tears and blood.

Some of the folks in the country are beginning to wish they had taken better care of the old "Bennett buggies" which got them by in the depression years.

WE LACK DEFENCE HIGHWAYS

From Ottawa Citizen

Jean Francois Pouliot, Liberal member for Temiscouata, joined with Mr. Hanson, Conservative opposition leader, in the House in urging that defence highways should be built in Canada. Canada is lagging behind the United States in this defence work as in many other war activities.

An attack by the enemy on the Atlantic seaboard would likely be accompanied by sabotage against the vital arteries of transportation down through the Maritime Provinces.

Canada has the labor power to build a complete network of defence highways, but members like Mr. Pouliot have to be prepared to give leadership of opinion along the path of national service to direct the available stream of labor into essential war work. In Australia, a Civil Construction Corps has been mobilized with nearly 30,000 men enlisted for such war work as the building of defence highways.

The Civil Construction Corps in Australia is strictly civilian without military discipline, but the members are enlisted in this essential service for the duration of the war. There can be defence highways in Canada whenever Parliament has the will to put Canada into the war as Australia is in it.

CHAOS, AS USUAL

ON MY RETURN HOME I found conditions next door in their customary state of chaos. But I think a new high in confusion has been achieved through the zoological researches of the little boy next door who, as duly recorded here, among the other important developments in the nation, has been going in for the culture of white mice on a large scale.

The original commercial aspects of this project have succeeded rather beyond the entrepreneur's expectations and certainly beyond the wishes of the entrepreneur's parents; for not only has the black mouse, the wife of the white mouse, produced three separate families, but all of them have escaped—including the mother and father. They have escaped, of course, into the basement next door and there are steadily building up a race of cross-breed, black-and-white mice, gradually merging into the grey of the original parent, several generations removed.

And while a white mouse is a charming pet when you hold him in your hand, or carry him in your pocket, or allow him to crawl down your neck (as was the custom next door) he become wild and distinctly anti-social when he is released into a basement. All his old, evil instincts flare up in him. All his predatory feelings get the best of him and shortly he is a robber and a bandit.

BIRD LIFE

THAT IS WHY the former fancier of white mice next door, the young man who allowed them to crawl down his neck, is now busy trying to catch them in traps, so far without success and, judging by the domestic proclivities of these creatures, the whole place will be entirely over-run with white mice by autumn.

That is not the worst of it. The little boy next door, on abandoning the culture of mice, went in for the culture of bantam chickens and this, of course, necessitates the accumulation of grain in the basement, on which the mice feed and which now has attracted all the rats in the country. So that, by the wonderful balance of nature, he has succeeded at last in producing a maximum of confusion, inconvenience, insanitation and economic loss.

The bantams are more easily discovered, but they do not possess the fine morals and strong family feeling of the mice. You take the little black hen. You might have expected that a lady so undistinguished in appearance, with so little to recommend her to the eye of her husband, would at least have been faithful to him, would have clung to him and comforted him in these difficult times.

Instead, she has left him cold. She has absented herself from his household and has started to raise a family of her own. Now it may be, as the owner told me today, she was jealous of the little red hen who, after all, had more of beauty to commend her, but, as the owner further observed, bantams are used to polygamy and should not resent the presence of an extra wife or two. Anyway, off the black hen has gone to found a family of her own.

DISASTER

BUT HARDLY had she started to do so, sitting quietly on her eggs in the shelter of a blossoming shrub, than the father of the little boy next door, pruning his shrubbery, stepped into the nest, destroying two of seven eggs. And now, though you will hardly believe it, the black hen refuses to sit on the remaining five and, fickle like all females, has returned to her husband. Thus, through a series of disasters, the entrepreneur sees his hopes of raising large flocks of bantams for the market cruelly destroyed. He cannot coax the black hen back to the nest and all day long the rooster crows triumphantly to show his power over women. With mice in the basement and continual crows outside, life next door, they tell me, is becoming too complicated.

SOLACE

HOWEVER, at this season there is always the solace of living things that do not crow and do not infest basements. I mean in particular the first cherries. The first cherry surely is one of the great portents of the year, one of the landmarks, one of the recollected memories that carry you through the winter.

It is a pleasure of which no city person can partake. He may buy the best cherries in a paper bag and guzzle them greedily in some dark room or secret place beyond the reach of his neighbors; but by then they have lost all their flavor, not perhaps in a physical sense, but in a spiritual sense. The spiritual cherry must come directly off the tree while you are clinging desperately to a branch at imminent peril of falling and breaking your neck. It must be the first cherry of the year (probably under-ripe and painful in the digestive tract) and you must come upon it suddenly, unexpectedly, after you have toiled all day with hoe and shovel.

Then the taste of it on the hot palate is sweeter than the taste of the finest wine, and the spiritual satisfaction can be known only to the man who has planted the tree and watched it grow slowly, like his own child, into maturity. And at night, in an agony of indigestion, he has a true and inward spiritual satisfaction which is best treated with bicarbonate of soda.

It's a good thing hens don't know how much masons get for laying bricks.

Parallel Thoughts

Whither Reconstruction?

From Hansard report of the discussions within the Special Committee of the House of Commons on Reconstruction and Re-establishment, with Dr. F. Cyril James, principal of McGill University, and chairman of the Dominion Reconstruction Committee, as witness:

Mr. Hill—Would it not appeal to your committee that this committee of parliament should concentrate a greater part of its activities on Canadian problems, and leave other problems to be dealt with at some other time?

Dr. James—I think that the most important thing in the early stages of this discussion is to be absolutely sure that the Dominion government and the provincial governments are in a position to act promptly in regard to such matters as the employment situation, the public works program, the surveys of resources, and other vital domestic problems. The same is true in regard to such other matters as the nutritional problem which was discussed at the last meeting, which again is a purely domestic matter and in which constructive things can be done. Although the Committee on Reconstruction is keenly aware of the fact that international development will exercise a profound influence on the future prosperity of Canada, it is unanimous in its opinion that our first task is to adopt policies that put our domestic house in order.

Mr. Castleden—Do I gather that it is your opinion that some form of planning board is going to be required which will regulate production in Canada?

Dr. James—I have a holy fear of setting up new boards, and particularly of anything as comprehensive as a planning board. After all, reconstruction affects every detail of Canadian life. It affects every individual man, woman and child from the time they go to school to the time when they retire on pension, or even his fenced land and ringbarking a few inches from the tree.

This is just plain theft. To steal apples or berries does not involve the murder of the tree or plant, but theft of cascara bark does. That young people should be ignorant of what they are doing is deplorable. Parents and teachers might do good service by warnings that cascara trees are property as private as apple trees and that, before they are touched, permission must be secured from the owner.

The bark can then be harvested only by methods which the government has laid down and which can be ascertained on inquiry from those firms who now wish to acquire the bark, or from officers of the Forest Service.

One small property owner informs us that he has for years past been endeavoring to preserve and increase his crop of cascara trees. Imagine his dismay this spring to find tree after tree dying as it stands owing to some one without leave, coming on to

HE WANTED TO HOLD A BABY

From New York Sun

A young American soldier walked into a U.S.O. service club and made a request. He didn't especially want a cup of coffee, a game of chess or a book. He didn't particularly wish to sit down in an easy chair and listen to the radio. He wasn't in the mood for a dance, a floor show or a motion picture. He wanted to hold a three-month-old baby in his arms. He had one at home.

From Cars to BATTLE WAGGONS

Canadian genius for mass production is now being applied with telling results to the output of motorized war equipment.

Production figures are already fantastic. Since the beginning of the war, Canada has produced and shipped to the battlefields of the world more than 250,000 military vehicles. Production is now at the rate of one unit every three minutes and is constantly mounting.

Canadian fighting men need 160 different types of motorized equipment. Canada is producing all of them.

One plant alone is turning out in a single day enough Universal Carriers to equip two battalions. Heavy tanks, with 25,000 parts, are in mass production and, at one plant, are coming off the assembly line at the rate of one every few hours.

This advertisement is published as a contribution to the general knowledge of our country's war effort and as an inspiration through the days ahead. For reasons of security complete figures are not available. The facts presented, however, are impressive evidence of the growing might of Canada's war machine.

Councilwomen Take Lead In Volunteer Enrolment

The Local Council of Women will undertake the enrolment of volunteers to assist in the preparation of ration books under the new sugar rationing plan.

The women consented to assist in this vital piece of war work after listening to Mrs. Paul Smith, chairman of the Vancouver and Victoria joint committee of the consumers' branch of the Wartime Prices and Trades Board. At the council meeting held in the Y.W.C.A. Monday afternoon, with Mrs. A. E. Hopkins, president, in the chair, Mrs. Smith outlined the duties of these volunteer workers, who will work in designated schools on June 26, 27, 29 and 30, at the task of transferring the names and addresses of householders and their families on to the new ration books.

An army of volunteers will be required to assist in this copying, and all those willing to do so are asked to enroll at the office of the women's committee, 311 Central Building, View Street, where someone will be in attendance from tomorrow morning on.

BEEF PRICES

The C.C.F. Women's Auxiliary introduced a resolution protesting the rise in price of beef and fish. The matter will be referred to the women's committee of the Wartime Prices Board here, and will also be sent to the affiliated societies for consideration. A protest was also registered from the Co-operative Women's Guild concerning the high price of clothing, together with the suggestion that clothing and beef should be included in the rationing scheme to ensure all having an equal chance of purchase.

The meeting endorsed the John Howard Society's resolution asking the federal government to implement the recommendations made in the report of the royal commission on prison reform and to establish a permanent commission of three to carry out much-needed penal reforms.

Unanimous support was also given to the resolution from the Victoria Auxiliary to the Canadian Forestry Corps (Overseas Fund), asking for the appointment of a woman on all regional pensions boards. The council also commended the action taken at the recent mass meeting of women asking the provincial government to curtail the sale of liquor in the interests of war economy and public morale.

PARK SUPERVISION

Satisfaction was expressed over the City Council's action in making plans for children's play supervision in the public playgrounds, the matter to be in charge of the Council of Social Agencies. After Mrs. Hugh MacKenzie had outlined the plans, the meeting voted the sum of $25 towards the cost of equipment and supervision of park playgrounds for the summer months.

At the same time the meeting decided to draw the attention of the City Council to the need of police protection in Beacon Hill Park, suggesting the appointment of a special officer for this purpose to replace the one superannuated some time ago.

APPEAL FOR JAM CANS

Mrs. A. E. Hopkins reported on the meeting held by the Red Cross recently in connection with the making of jam for shipment overseas, continuing the work inaugurated two years ago by the council. The committee personnel follows: Mrs. P. Rayment, organizer; Mrs. A. E. Hopkins, representing the Local Council; Mrs. C. Johns, Women's Institutes; Mrs. R. P. Borden, Red Cross; Mrs. H. P. Hodges and Mrs. P. A. Bell.

Mrs. Rayment reported that the Sunshine Inn premises would be used as the centre for jam making. Preparations have been made to start work as soon as fruit is available. Mrs. Wm. Peden has undertaken the task of arranging for pickers. Mrs. Rayment reported. An appeal was made for four-pound cans in which to pack the jam, as it was pointed out that jars cannot be used for shipping.

A message of congratulation was ordered sent to the Victoria Women's Institute on the occasion of its 21st birthday being celebrated today. A letter of sympathy will be sent to Miss Josephine Crease, who is confined to her home through illness, and to Mrs. Wm. McManus, a former valued member, in the loss of her husband.

Children's Aid W.A. Hears Delegate

The final meeting for the season of the Children's Aid Society W.A. was held Monday afternoon in the Y.W.C.A. lounge. Mrs. A. E. James presided and welcomed several guests.

The treasurer, Mrs. A. Tuson, gave the financial statement. For the sewing committee Mrs. F. Pilgrim reported much work had been accomplished during the last month. Money was voted for material for clothes for the babies in the nursery. Arrangements for a material shower in the fall were discussed. A beautiful hand-embroidered tablecloth, a gift to the W.A. from the late Mrs. James Fletcher, was on display and greatly admired.

Miss Lyna Mess, supervisor of Children's Aid Work, gave an interesting report on the recent Welfare Conference in San Francisco and told of the splendid way in which this work is carried on in the south and the effort made to meet all demands. The speaker stressed the attention given to clean, supervised entertainment and explained how some of the problems in the greatly increased populated centres were solved. Mrs. James thanked Miss Mess, on behalf of the W.A., for her report.

At the close of the meeting Mrs. G. H. Bissell and Mrs. F. Pilgrim served ice cream and cake.

FLASH! AN EXTRA SPECIAL DRESSING FOR FAVORITE SALADS

Miss Pool, Charlottetown, P.E.I.

"In a salad it is the dressing that brings out the full tasty flavour," said Miss Pool of Upper Prince Street, Charlottetown, P.E.I. "I did a lot of experimenting before I got a recipe that suited me for making salad dressing."

Now I not only make it for my own use, but I sell it. So many ladies like the dressing I make, they often ask me to make up a jar for them. The secret of a good dressing is to have just the right amount of mustard in it.

Ideal For Sandwiches

"I not only use my special salad dressing for salads, but I put it in the sandwiches I make for parties. I cater to bridge parties, weddings and social affairs here in Charlottetown and naturally I make dozens of sandwiches each week. Here again no matter what filling one uses, it requires an especially nice dressing to give a sandwich a distinctive flavour. For that reason I use just a little more mustard in mine than the average recipe calls for."

Mix and bring to boil in a double boiler. Then add 2 cups milk and 3 egg yolks, and boil until smooth. This can be thinned with cream, plain or whipped.

"I prefer whipped cream mixed with this dressing when I am making salads," said Miss Pool. "With cream, well whipped, mixed with it, you can arrange the dressing to stand in peaks, which gives it an attractive appearance on the salad."

Nothing gives a salad or sandwich a zestful taste like Colman's Mustard blended in just the right proportion with other ingredients.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was gowned in floor-length white sheer and her veil of white net misted from a coronet of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of calla lilies and white roses, and orange blossoms.

Mrs. M. Davies of Vancouver, cousin of the bride, was matron of honor, gowned in turquoise blue net, carrying a shower bouquet. Two bridesmaids, Misses Elsie Pettigrew and Breta Stewart, looked charming in pink floor-length gowns and carried shower bouquets.

Rifleman Dave Bennett of Camp Nanaimo was best man and ushers were Pte. S. Potts and Gunner Bud Cliffe, also of Camp Nanaimo. Mrs. H. Pattinson of Alberni, aunt of the bride, was the organist, and during the signing of the register Mr. H. Pattinson sang "O Perfect Love."

At the reception held in the Parish Hall, Mr. A. E. Planta of Nanaimo toasted the bride and groom, and Major Kingswell of Camp Nanaimo, the bridesmaids. Among the visitors were Mr. and Mrs. J. Campbell, parents of the groom, and the groom's brother, Hector, of Vancouver; Major and Mrs. Kingswell, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Planta of Nanaimo, Mr. and Mrs. Gibson, Mrs. Clarke of Victoria, Mrs. J. Waite, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Harrison of Vancouver, Mr. and Mrs. W. Harrison, Mr. and Mrs. E. Harrison of Alberni, also many of the groom's friends from Camp Nanaimo.

BAAL-TEMPLE
The marriage of Vivian Eunice Martha, only daughter of Mr. Edward Temple, Dysart Road, and Mrs. Ann Temple, View Street, and Mr. George Gilbert Gordon Baal, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. G. Baal, Sidney, V.I. drew a large congregation to Christ Church Cathedral Monday evening at 8. Very Rev. S. H. Elliott, Dean of Columbia, officiated, and Mr. Stanley Bulley was at the organ. Calla lilies were arranged on the altar and white peonies in the chancel.

Corpus Christi Procession

The annual Corpus Christi procession was held at St. Ann's Academy Sunday. The traditional procession took place indoors, floral decorations and lights taking the place of outdoor greenery.

Rt. Rev. Monsignor Baker with Rev. Fathers Lauzon and Hart as deacon and subdeacon, officiated. Following exposition of the Blessed Sacrament in the chapel, the special intentions, including prayers for His Holiness Pope Pius XII, for the bishops, the clergy and the faithful, and prayers for peace with justice, were read and the Litany of the Sacred Heart recited. The "Pange Lingua" was then intoned and the procession led by cross-bearer and attendants with lighted candles filed out of the chapel and down the convent corridor.

The Infant Jesus Sodality, tiny tots carrying the banner of the Child Jesus, the intermediates with the Guardian Angel banner, the girl guides in uniform, and the Children of Mary wearing official ribbons and carrying the banner of the Immaculate Mother of God and of men, took their places in order.

The women of the parish, the novices and sisters, then the Holy Names men, preceded the immediate bodyguard of the Blessed Sacrament, altar boys in cassock and surplice and tiny flower-girls in the spotless white of their first communion garb scattering rose petals along the way. Our Eucharistic Lord was carried by Rt. Rev. Monsignor Baker attended by deacon and subdeacon and with the Christian Brothers of St. Louis College.

The repository arranged on the auditorium stage stood out in the simple beauty of flowers and candles against the background of dark velvet curtains, and was the setting for a brief pause for the recitation of the Act of Consecration to the Sacred Heart and the prayers for peace, followed by benediction. The procession then returned to the chapel, where the Act of Solemn Dedication was recited and final benediction given.

The chapel made a particularly beautiful setting for the devotional exercise with its gleaming altar lights set in a floral bower of pink and white peonies and delicate sweetpeas.

OAK BAY UNIT RED CROSS

A meeting of the Oak Bay unit was held recently and the treasurer reported the following receipts from May 1 to June 9: Donations, $64; penny cards, $9.88; open house silver tea, $44.55; lecture by Sir Robt. Holland, $33.15; ladies' committee, Uplands Golf Club, $33; material fund, Junior Red Cross, High School, $40; prisoners of war fund, Monterey School, $21; total, $245.58.

It was decided owing to shortage of materials to close the work rooms during the month of July. The president reported that during the recent Red Cross drive the canvassers in Oak Bay turned in the total of $8,137, up to June 6.

gown of white slipper satin, with a long train, the bodice shirred across the front beneath the sweetheart neckline, and buttoned at the back, and the long sleeves fitted to a point over the wrists. Her imported veil of embroidered silk net was caught into a wreath of orange blossoms, and she carried a shower bouquet of orange blossoms, lilies and roses.

Miss Peggy Reid, the maid of honor, wore a frock of turquoise blue sheer with full skirt gathered across the hips into the low waistline, and had short sleeves, and the bridesmaid, her cousin, Miss Irene Crooks, wore a frock of ashes of roses sheer with a ruffle outlining the low waist. The skirt was long and full, and ruffles edged the short sleeves and the shirred yolk of the bodice. Both wore Juliet caps to match their frocks, trimmed with velvet flowers in the contrasting color, and carried colonial posies of pastel flowers. Mr. Gerry Godfrey, Sidney, was groomsmen, and ushers were Messrs. Brian Baal, Edward Peck and Ted Forbes, all from Sidney.

Flowers in profusion decorated the Memorial Hall, where the reception was held. A novelty crystal centerpiece held white tapers and sweetheart rosebuds on the supper table, and the wedding cake was decorated with the Baal family crest. Mr. Richard Williams proposed the toast to the bride.

For the honeymoon trip on the mainland, the bride donned a powder blue ensemble of British woolen, with hat of white lace-straw, and corsage-bouquet of sweetheart roses. The young couple will make their home at Sidney for the present. Mrs. A. de Serres, Mr. William Temple, Miss Bea Carter, Vancouver; Mrs. E. Shells, Los Angeles, and Mr. and Mrs. H. Haskamp, Saskatoon, were guests at the wedding.

Love Drama Seen In Police Report

Cupid and cupidly played parts in a little drama over the weekend, with a diamond engagement ring as props and three unromantic city detectives in minor roles. It all started when Harry Low found the ring in the 600 block Johnson Street Friday afternoon and was assessing the value of his find when a dolorous autist drove up, snatched the ring out of his hand and drove off.

Low reported the incident to police and Detectives Henry F. Jarvis, George Clayards and P. Richards were assigned to investigate. They were getting nowhere fast when the dolorous motorist, still rather sad about the whole thing, walked into the police station.

He explained he had been sitting in a parked car with his fiancée and became involved in a lovers' quarrel. She handed him back the ring and he took it and threw it away. He thought it over, cupid and cupidly battling in his mind. He drove back to the scene and recovered his ring from Low, he explained. He failed to say whether the girl was the ring back yet.

Variations between an Esquimalt bus licensing by-law and the B.C. Municipalities Act on which it is based may decide whether or not Esquimalt can collect a license fee from companies carrying passengers into the municipality.

1. Jake's not so fierce after all. "Lad," he barked at me, "where's your ambition? 'Tain't in nature for a young fella to be as dopey as you've been lately. It's nothing but internal sluggishness! Help 'em out by eating POST'S Bran Flakes—the cereal with three big benefits."

2. He hauled me into the grocer's. "Eat these Post's Bran Flakes every day," he growled, "and mind you ask for them by name—it's POST'S. They contain just enough bran to be mildly laxative, useful amounts of iron and phosphorus and a flavor you can't beat."

Tax Bills Late, Collections Off

Lateness in mailing tax bills was believed responsible to a large degree for slowness in collection of current taxes in the city, officials of the city assessor collector's department said today as they reported the amount paid in advance to date $77,951 below the sum received at the corresponding date last year.

Striking of the mill rate was later this year and all bills will not be out until the end of the month, it was reported.

To date $642,308 has been prepaid by citizens seeking the benefits of the 5 per cent per annum allowance granted by the city from the date of payment until taxes actually fall due in October. Last year at the similar date collections stood at $710,253.

The tempo of arrears collections picked up early this month, although the sum received to date is $22,762 below the $90,953 that had been paid by June 15 last year. At the end of May the arrears lagged $26,520 behind the 1941 figure.

Little concern was felt in official quarters over the tardiness of payment. Funds have been diverted to different channels early this year through war loan campaigns and other drives and the sound position of the city was considered sufficient guarantee to ensure a high percentage collection during the next four or five months.

Sawdust Dealers Must Sell Stocks

Victoria's sawdust situation was further complicated today by the announcement at Vancouver that "fuel dealers who have stocks on hand and refuse to sell at the ceiling prices established by the Wartime Prices and Trade Board are acting contrary to the regulations."

Victoria fuel dealers admitted today they had been holding off orders since the $4 per unit ceiling for sawdust. This was confirmed by the local office of the board which said that judging by complaints received last week, many domestic consumers of sawdust were unable to place orders.

A member of the fuel administration will be in Vancouver tomorrow to hear complaints. One fuel dealer said it was impossible for him to sell sawdust at $4 a unit. Buying at a price of $1 a unit, f.o.b. Cowichan Lake, the price in Victoria was $3.35. This allowed only 45 cents for sacking and delivery to the home, he said.

On the other hand when the price ceiling was set some sawdust dealers said they were selling bulk sawdust for $3.75 per unit and that the ceiling therefore did not affect them. The new order, however, establishes that the $4 delivery price means "the price of sawdust delivered to the bin or other storage place on the premises of the consumer," in other words, sacked.

Compare Reserve With Home Guard

Today no speech by Premier Churchill, outstanding publicists, American newspaper correspondents or radio commentators describing Great Britain is complete without a glowing tribute to the men of the British Home Guard, which in the Old Land takes the place occupied by the Reserve Army in Canada.

Yet it is not too much to say that in the early days of the war the British Home Guard was not looked on with favor by the British War Office, if indeed attempts were not made to suppress it. Today of course all such antagonism is forgotten and the Home Guard, numbering over 2,000,000 fully-equipped men, is recognized as one of Great Britain's main bulwarks against invasion.

COMPLETE ARMY

Similar recognition of Canada's Reserve Army is now being given by the government of Canada. Complete, all modern equipment for all branches of the Reserve Army is, or has been, received and fully-trained instructors posted to all units.

Canada's Reserve Army gives the man not eligible for Canada's active forces that opportunity to defend his country that he has been looking for. The units of the Reserve Army in Victoria are manned by business and professional men and other workers taken from all ranks of life, who have joined with one common object—to defend this part of Canada against any enemy that attempts to invade our island. Here indeed is an opportunity for any man to put into practice the resolve he has already made that so far as he can help no enemy shall ever successfully attack our country.

The training being given is adapted to the needs of men who are still engaged in civil avocations. The aim is to familiarize them with modern arms and equipment and teach them to work as a trained, organized unit rather than as ineffective individuals.

RECRUITING CENTRES

The Reserve recruiting quarters at 1238 Government Street (at Yates), which are open daily from 9 a.m. to 10 p.m., should be visited by all Victorians.

The officers and men of Victoria's Reserve Army are determined to do everything possible to recruit their respective units up to full strength. They have painted catchy slogans on the windows and have arms of all kinds and makes on display within the quarters. On Saturday more than 70 people came to look around, many saying they were definitely coming back to join up. Apparently their scrutiny convinced them that Victoria's Reserve Army means business and wants men to fight not drill. Replying to a number of inquiries, it should be distinctly understood that any recruit can choose which unit he wishes to join and that he will be at once welcome in any of them, viz, the 114th Infantry Reserve (Veterans), 3rd Canadian Scottish (Machine Gun), 13th Field Ambulance, 203rd Field Battery and the 1st R.C.O.C. Workshops. Interested applicants can apply by phone to E 6119, E 2331, E 4103.

J. E. Bell Awarded Doctor's Degree

J. E. Bell, who was assistant minister at First United Church from 1937 to 1939, received the degree of Doctor of Education at the commencement of Columbia University, New York.

Dr. Bell graduated from the University of British Columbia with a B.A. degree in 1933, and from Union Theological College of British Columbia in 1936. In 1941, he received an M.A. degree from Columbia University.

During this past year, he has been assistant in guidance at Teachers College, Columbia University. He was recently appointed assistant professor of psychology and acting head of the Department of Psychology at Park College, Parkville, Missouri.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Bell, reside in Vancouver.

Automobile accidents go up when the sun goes down.

Schools Facing Wood Shortage

Victoria's wood problem spread to the school board office this week as officials there sought sources from which they could build up the supply for the next school year.

Annually the schools use between 250 and 300 cords of four-foot cordwood.

At the regular meeting of the board last week, the secretary reported no tender had been submitted in reply to its advertisement for wood. One bid only was for the coal contract and was accepted.

The call for supplies was issued early by the board this year in anticipation of possible difficulties. In previous years the wood has been ordered as it has been needed to prevent large amounts from taking up storage space. To be on the safe side for the 1942-43 school year the secretary called tenders recently. They brought no response.

Inability to secure wood would not necessarily cause closing of schools next winter, it was understood at the board office. If sufficient coal were laid in, the schools could manage with that fuel and kindling, although costs would be slightly higher.

Ganges Rose Show

GANGES—The rose show, annually sponsored by the Ganges Women's Institute, was held Thursday in the Mahon Hall. J. Nunn of Sidney judged the exhibits in all classes, which showed a high standard of quality, possibly the most outstanding among the roses being those of the "Ruth Alexander" and "Shot Silk" varieties.

Two new classes added to the small list this year for school children brought in numerous entries, the miniature gardens showing much originality and thoughtful attention to detail.

Much admired was the vase of the new sweet pea, "The Clown," brought by Mr. Nunn for exhibition only. The large number of entries in the class for the most artistic bowl of garden flowers, which were judged by popular vote, attracted much attention. Afternoon tea was served to the visitors at small flower-decorated tables placed at the sides of the hall, and convened by Mrs. D. Fyvie, who was assisted by Mrs. F. Wagg, Mrs. J. Byron and the Misses K. Popham, E. Price and L. Burket.

The show committee consisted of Mrs. E. Charlesworth, Mrs. N. W. Wilson, Mrs. A. E. Elliott and Mrs. T. F. Speed.

This small show, started some years ago for institute members, is gradually developing and in the words of the judge, "rose-growers on Salt Spring Island have all the possibilities of a wonderful show."

By JIM KEARNEY

"You," and a commanding finger was pointed in my direction, "will come off the crime and police court beat for the next two weeks and get out the sports page while Pete spends his holidays sunning himself in the Cowichan Lake frontier country."

Thereupon I went to the Figg Street station and bade the boys farewell, one of whom sneered:

"And I suppose covering police activities is a preparatory course to sports editing?"

"Well," I retorted, "that might be." So I digressed into a diatribe on the similarity of law and sport.

Now, you know what a charge is. It's an accusation, read in terrifying legal phraseology, by the clerk of the court, accusing a prisoner of committing a certain crime, usually parking by a fire plug, or for overparking in a downtown area.

Have you ever gone out to a baseball game? Now place the umpire in the place of the prisoner. Brother, he gets more charges thrown at him in nine innings of ball than all the law breakers in town have read at them during a week in court.

The fans compare him with Jesse James, minus the mustangs and six-shooters, of course, accuse him of being paid to throw the game in a certain direction, of being a utility player for the team the complaining fans don't like and so on and on.

Of course, at a ball game, you can throw pop bottles to add emphasis. Nobody has tried that in police court yet, at least not in Victoria.

Now, let's digress some more. Put the referee in the place of the magistrate. Up there on his elevated bench the magistrate listens to the evidence from the prosecution and the defence, and by weighing the respective merits of this evidence, he arrives at a conclusion of guilty or not guilty. If he finds the accused guilty, he sentences him according to the seriousness of the crime.

In baseball, hockey, lacrosse and soccer the referee has the same job, except he gives his decision by what he sees, not by what he hears. It is only to be expected you have some irresponsible officials who make calls by ear. They wait for the crowd to roar and decide accordingly. Discretion is the better part of valor, so their motto seems.

As to the gravity of the crime committed by the player in hockey or lacrosse, the referee sentences him to two, five or 10 minutes. In extremes, like attempted homicide, he banishes the player from the game.

The only difference between this and the courtroom is that the player can talk back to the ref and get away with it nine times out of 10. Did you ever try talking back to the magistrate? No? Well, don't start now—you may not have the money for next month's rent.

Then there's the matter of appeals. If you don't like a police magistrate's decision, you can appeal to a higher court. Lawyer's fees are the only catch.

If a team in an organized league doesn't like the decisions of a referee, or thinks he misinterprets laws, its management can appeal to the local league executive. If they lose the complaint in the waste paper basket, it can go to the district officials, who in turn, if they feel so disposed, can overrule the local body. You see, it's just the same as in the law courts.

Want Bigger Purses

Horsemen On Strike

BOSTON (AP) — The first horsemen's strike in the 10-year-old history of New England pari-mutuel racing—a strike over demands for increases in all purses—resulted in the cancellation of today's eight-race program at Suffolk Downs.

That action resulted when only eight of the 1,000-odd thoroughbreds quartered at the track, representing almost 200 different owners, were designated as starters in today's overnight events.

Earlier a group of owners and trainers, who had identified themselves as "horsemen of Suffolk Downs," presented a petition to Charles F. Adams, president of the Eastern Racing Association, that called for a 20 per cent increase in all purses for the duration of the 60-day meeting, which reached its halfway mark last Saturday.

Adams said: "I told the representatives of the horsemen that we are willing to go part of the way with you but we can't go all the way. We are doing all we can afford to do for we cannot foretell what the future has in store for taxation and transportation and we could not make promises that we might not be able to keep."

Later three owner-trainers, Johnny McDowell, Phil Bieber and Harold Simmons, who acted as spokesmen for the horsemen, notified racing secretary Charles J. McLennan that they had revised their demand to a minimum purse of $1,200 instead of $1,000 for the rest of the meeting.

In their petition to Adams, the horsemen pointed out that the upkeep of horses had increased "far in excess of 30 per cent" and that they were unable to make both ends meet even under the most favorable conditions. They also pointed out that the Suffolk Downs' handle for the first half of its 1942 meeting totaled $15,005,755, an increase of $1,938,707 over that same period last year.

The horsemen have been assured by the jockeys that they will not accept any mounts until the owners and trainers have settled their differences with the management. The track grooms also have agreed to refuse to lead any more horses from the stables to the paddock until then.

Those going from Victoria will include Bill Clarke, Al Macfarlane, Jack Rowe, Bill Towell, Arnie Walker, Jack Gibbs, Bob Wilkinson, Ronald and Ivel Dalziel, Al McKinnon, and Dave Patterson. Coach Archie McKinnon will accompany the runners.

Participants in the program come from all over the Pacific Northwest. It is expected several smart track men will be running from the University of Washington.

Medicos Start Tourney Today

JASPER, ALTA. (CP)—More than 200 medical men will participate in the annual Canadian Medical Association Golf Tournament which starts over the Jasper course today.

The Ontario Cup for the C.M.A. individual handicap play will be presented Thursday night. Other top prizes include the new Alberta Cup for handicap team play; two Saskatchewan cups for entrants from that province.

Burrards Beat Salmonbellies

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C. (CP)—Burrards downed New Westminster Salmonbellies 11-5 here Monday night to ring up their first win of the current intercity box lacrosse schedule. The win pulled Burrards out of the cellar and into third place in the standings, a point ahead of Norvans.

The score was tied 3-3 at half-time, but Burrards' romped ahead in the third quarter and held the Royal City squad scoreless in the fourth session.

Johnny Cavallin with three and Art Mathewson with two led Burrard scorers, while Ed Downey with two was top for New Westminster.

Cubs Defeat Brooklyn

Passeau Nips Dodgers for 7th Time

By Associated Press

The moral of this piece is: Never throw a bean ball at Claude Passeau.

One of those slants tossed by Hugh Casey just about two years ago got Claude so steamed up he's been taking it out on the Dodgers ever since, and getting a lot of laughs out of it.

Claude was so peeved that afternoon at Wrigley Field that he started to take on the whole Brooklyn ball club, bare-knuckled. What he punched around some, what by Joe Gallagher, of whom you may have heard. These antics shocked National League President Ford Frick so that he pinned a $75 fine on the Chicago Cubs' ace elbow.

LOST ONLY TWO

Even since then, the man from Mississippi—that's no reflection, it's just Claude's college—has been taking that "six bits" out of a Shylock. In the course of two years, he's knocked off the bums seven times and dropped only two to them.

Right now, he's pretty warm for June, or any other month for that matter. He hasn't been beaten since May 5. So last evening, Manager Jimmy Wilson, his old pal and co-refugee from the Phillies, asked him to go out there against the Brooklyn in a twilight game—the first big league game, incidentally, ever to start in daylight and end under the arcs.

"Them bums," Passeau shrugged. "Why they're my cousins."

What he did to the league leaders made the relationship seem even closer than that. He served up a five-hitter and he didn't let a Dodger get past second. In fact, only two got a ride as far as that on the line. And with help of some fair court clouting by Lou Novikoff, Bill Nicholson and James "Double-X" Foxx he waltzed home with a 6-0 decision.

This was his eighth straight victory and made him the first big league twirler to hit the 10-game winner bull's-eye this year.

BUCS LOSE TO GIANTS
This win moved the Cubs back into fifth place in the loop, and dropped the Pittsburgh Pirates into sixth, because the Bucs lost the only other game on the big league schedule Monday. This was a 6-2 setback pinned on them by New York Giants.

The Bucs had the misfortune to run into Prince Hal Schumacher on one of his better afternoons. When this happens, the best any club can find is a lot of holes in its bats. For seven innings, Prince Hal tossed a two-hitter. Then he eased up, gave a pair of runs in the eighth and coasted home. By this time, Babe (The Bull) Barna and his bat had taken care of things, however. The bull knocked in three runs during the proceedings, with a homer, triple and double. Mel Ott also chipped in a four-bagger, his eighth of the year.

The American League's eastern clubs open their western swing today, and the National League's east entertain the folks from the wide open spaces, except that Brooklyn and the Cubs will take the day off to rest up, look over the situation, and count noses.

The supplies distributed at Hongkong, where survivors of the Canadian contingent which fought there are believed to be interned, included about 2,000 tons of cracked wheat or other cereal and some medical supplies.

Services Play Tiremen Tonight

Douglas Tire and United Services, their line-ups somewhat shifted around, will clash for the second time this season in tonight's senior box attraction at the Sports Centre. Game time is 8:30 with Senators and Fletchers, midget teams, playing in the preliminary at 7.

Leader of the Douglas Tire tribe, Gus Munroe, has added two more players to his roster. One is Dan McFadyen, formerly of Trail and one of the best players to perform in the interior league. The other addition is Walter Holden, who played a little hockey with Vapors in the winter. He is slated for defence duty.

Eric Holyoak, who performed with Alerts and last year's Army team, will make his first appearance on the services squad tonight. Manager Norm Barton has listed Jimmie Ryan to play goal tonight. Jimmie took a rest in the last game while Services tried a new hope, Herbie Smilin.

In their last meeting the services took a one-goal decision over the tiremen, which, Munroe says, is neither here nor there.

Douglas Tire line-up follows: Bryant, McFadyen, Cooke, Barr, Ovarhick, Stevens, Perry Moffatt, Thomas, Goode, Don White, Holden, Doug White and W. White.

Leading Sacs Play Portland

By Associated Press

Sacramento, Pacific Coast League leader in batting as well as team standing, is tabbed to fatten its percentage points at the expense of Portland, cellar team of the loop, starting tonight at Portland. The Beavers dropped five games of a seven-game series to the next-to-last place Hollywood club last week and should prove little opposition to the Solons.

San Diego Padres, dark horse team of the league now in second place a game behind Sacramento, are on their way to Seattle for a tussle that will open with a doubleheader Wednesday night.

San Francisco Seals, entrained for Los Angeles Monday night after lack of Pullman accommodations threatened to force them to take a daylight train today. They open an eight-game baseball series with Los Angeles tonight. Oakland returned Monday from an unhealthy trip south, where San Diego walloped them five games to two, and prepared to entertain the Hollywood club in a series opening tonight.

Rain and Fog Hamper Birds

The Victoria and District Racing Pigeon Club held its seventh bird race of the season over the week-end from Chua Chua, an airline distance of 246 miles.

Eagles Make 10 Bobbles Lose 21 to 6

Manager and second baseman George Syrotuck of the Eagles baseball team is about ready to admit if he doesn't manage to get some more players he'll have to turn what players he has into good-humor men. The second-place Navy team amply proved this at Athletic Park, Monday night, piling out 15 hits and taking advantage of 10 birdmen errors to win the game 21 to 6.

Just to make things more dismal, only a scattering of fans braved a chilly Octoberish wind to give sympathy to the hapless losers. The result leaves Eagles in fifth spot, just ahead of the Army, and moves Navy a little closer to the league leaders, V.M.D.

Seven runs in the fourth inning and 12 in the last three accounted for what happened. Batting first, Eagles got to Navy pitcher Stan Davies for three runs before the spectators had found their seats. Stan was wild at first, but settled down as the game progressed. He gave seven bases on balls, struck out 10 and allowed six hits.

Navy got one run back in their half of the first, McElroy, their shortstop, beating the throw-in from centre field after Menard had filed to Wright. In their half of the second Eagles got another run. Syrotuck went to first on four pitched balls, stole second and came home on Manning Irving's two-bagger to right field.

In the third Navy made it 4 to 2, Menard dropping a Texas leaguer into short field while Moretti scampered home from second.

NAVY LETS BLAST

Eagles failed to score in their half of the fourth, so the sailors made up for it. They started off badly, Wegand batting into a double play with Richardson on first base. Eagle pitcher Stan Currie walked Abercrombie, Stan Davies popped a double to short right, and on a bad throw to second Abercrombie came home.

So the merry-go-round continued. McElroy made first on a fly to short right and stole second as Davies advanced to third. Moretti then, drove the ball through shortstop to score the two on bases. Thompson then fled to right field, Menard walked, and with the bases loaded Whitney slapped one out to left field. Alan Wright bobbled it and Moretti and Thompson came home. Then second baseman Glenn Richardson pasted a grounder which shortstop "Red" Dougan fumbled, allowing Menard and Whitney to come home. Only three of the seven runs were earned.

MAITLAND HAS A TRY

Ray Maitland replaced Currie on the mound and held the Navy in check for one inning. In the sixth they got to him for four runs and in the seventh for two. Like Currie, however, he got little support. He struck out four and issued two bases on balls during his abbreviated stay in the box. Catcher Bill Bridgewood was forced to retire in the fifth with a cut finger. Reg. Regnier took his place.

The third of the Eagles' four chukkers, little Harry Holness, came in from third base and lasted for about three minutes in the eighth inning. The sailors nicked him for three hits, and helped by some errors, scored six runs.

Chuck Barnett, American Army sergeant and lanky first sacker, took over from Holness. He caught Whitney stealing at third, struck out Richardson and forced Wegand to ground to second base. And that, ladies and gentlemen, was the game, such as it was.

Navv 21 15 2
Eagles 6 10 6
Batteries — Davies and Whitney; Currie, Maitland, Holness and Barnett, Bridgewood and Regnier.

Rain and fog prevented any birds getting home in race time.

The next race will be from Blue River, an airline distance of 310 miles. The Moore-Whittington Lumber Company Cup will be awarded to the owner of the winning bird.

As this will be a two-day race, birds will be basketed Thursday evening at 8 at club headquarters. Following basking, clocks will be set and checked. The birds will be released at 9:30 Saturday morning.

Dorothy Dix: Love for Ex-Sweetheart Is Ruining Wife's Health

Dear Miss Dix: I have been married for 13 years and have children, but I am so unhappy that my doctor says that unless I can get into a more cheerful frame of mind he can do nothing for me. The reason for my unhappiness is that I am in love with another man. Not long ago my childhood sweetheart came to see me after 19 years and since then life has been miserable for both of us.

We still love each other and he wants me to go away with him and take one of the children, leaving the others with their father; but I can't bear to separate the children and break up the home. I don't know what to do, because my health, as well as my happiness, is at stake. What do you think I should do?

WORRIED WIFE.

Answer: I don't think that anybody can find happiness in wrongdoing. They can find excitement, the thrill of adventure, perhaps a momentary pleasure in breaking the laws of God and man, but never the quiet peace and contentment of happiness. And this is especially true of women.

Look at the wild women you know. Look at the girls who have thrown their caps over the windmill. Notice that they never smile. They laugh loud and shrilly, but there is no mirth in it. Their laughter is the crackling of thorns under a pot. They are always restless and dissatisfied, always in pursuit of a joy they never find, and almost invariably they come to the time when they have to bolster up their flagging spirits with drink and are gay only when they are drunk enough to have forgotten. So I think you will find the remedy for your unhappiness in running off with your lover and leaving your children and your husband and your home and your decent place in society, behind you. What has brought on the nervous condition you are in now is the conflict between your conscience and your desires, and it will be worse—it will tear you to pieces if you do the thing you know to be wrong.

WOULD LIVE IN TORMENT

There never will be a day nor an hour when you will be at peace with yourself. There never will be a night when you will not lie awake wondering how the helpless little children you deserted are getting along, with no mother to watch over them, no mother to care for and protect them. Your dreams will be haunted by the cry for mother! Can't you look at your own case honestly in the face and see that you are a neurotic woman who is building up a romance out of your own morbid imaginings that have very little foundation in fact? Can't you see that you are imagining that you are a lot more in love with this old sweetheart than you really are? He left you several years before you married your husband, so he never could be ardently in love with you. And now he comes back and for his own amusement he is trying to break up your home, take you from your husband, make you his mistress, and wreck the lives of your little children.

If there is any more caddish thing that a man can do than that, I don't know what it is. And if there is anything sillier than that a woman can do to throw away all the decades of life for such a man, I don't know what that is, either.

Get a grip on yourself. Tell this man to go away and leave you in peace. Do your duty by your husband and your children and you will find happiness and health.

ANOTHER PHILANDERING HUSBAND

Dear Miss Dix: Eight years ago my husband smashed the little patch of heaven I was living in by telling me that he was in love with an 18-year-old girl, who was his mistress, and that he wanted a divorce, so he could marry her. After months of pleading with him to try to make him see the folly of breaking up our home and ruining the lives of our two baby sons I finally gave him the divorce he wished.

The girl soon got him so much in debt that alimony stopped coming in and I was forced to work to support my children. Now I have become a fairly successful business woman and have saved enough to send my boys through college. My ex-husband's wife has walked out on him to go to another man and he has come to me a broken man, begging for another chance to make up for the years of torture he has caused me.

I have nothing but repulsion for him, but he is working on my boys and showering them with presents until they are pleading with me to let their daddy live with them, so they may have a father like other boys have. I have never told my children how their father treated me. Must I shatter their illusions about their father in order to hold their love and respect? Or am I a selfish woman to deny them a home with their father?

ANXIOUS MOTHER.

Answer: I do not think that you are called upon to martyrize yourself for the balance of your life by taking back a man who has treated you the way your husband did. You have worked your way to peace and independence, and you would forfeit all of that if you had to live in daily contact with a man you could never look at without its opening all the old wounds.

But it is a question that you must settle for yourself. At any rate, I think you should tell the boys all about their father and not let them blame you for his sins. I do not see that such a father would be an uplifting influence in his sons' lives.

LOVES HIM, BUT NOT HIS CAR

Dear Miss Dix: I am in love with a young man who is everything I have ever wanted in a husband. He has kindness, patience, meekness, politeness, generosity, and a fairly good position. The one objection to him is that he insists on driving the most awful-looking car. He can't afford a new one, but I do not care whether he has one or not. I am just ashamed to be seen with him in this car, and the fear of my boss or business associates seeing it places a queer but high barrier between us. The car is really terrible and people laugh at it. What shall I do?

READER.

Answer: Well, I don't think you will have to worry about that much longer, as what with the rubber shortage and the gas rationing the car proposition will be eliminated.

But you misjudge people's attitude toward your young man and his car. No one whose opinion is worth regarding has anything but profound respect for a young man who rides around in the battered old car he can afford, instead of splurging in one that makes everyone wonder how he is paying for it.

New Zealand Natives Were In Stone Age When Discovered

Among the brown skinned people of Pacific islands, the Maoris rank high. They are the native folk of New Zealand, and are gifted with good brains and strong bodies. Their skins are of light brown color.

No one knows where the ancestors of the Maoris lived before they moved to the large islands south of the equator. It is possible that they came from Samoa, Tahiti, Tonga or the Cook Islands.

At any event, the Maoris were on the New Zealand islands when white men first arrived, and probably had been there for hundreds of years. They were living in the Stone Age. Their tools and weapons were made of wood, bone and stone. They had no bows and arrows and knew nothing about the use of metal.

In the woods the people could find no deer, because there were none. Neither were there such animals as bears, wolves, foxes or squirrels.

So far as is known, the only four-footed furry animals in New Zealand at that time were rats and dogs. The dogs were of small size and seem to have been brought in by the early brown-skinned settlers.

The Maoris spent much of their time fishing. They also dug in the ground for roots and had gardens in which their raised sweet potatoes.

Like millions of other natives of Pacific lands, the Maoris did not show affection by kissing. Instead, they pressed their noses together; it was more a matter of pressing than of rubbing the noses.

To this day many Maoris follow some of their old customs, including nose-pressing. They live in their own villages and mix little with the white settlers who make up 95 per cent of New Zealand's population.

Other Maoris live in Auckland and Wellington, the largest cities. Some have taken part in the public life of New Zealand, holding high offices.

Sheep, cattle and swine have been brought to New Zealand by the whites, and the raising of livestock is an important industry. Rabbits have been brought in, and have proved a pest, the same as in Australia. In one year, the people of New Zealand sent 17,000,000 rabbit skins to markets of the world. In that way they have made some use of their "pest."

AID TO FORESTS

Because of dull weather, with plenty of rain, which has irritated vacationists, there were only 101 fires in British Columbia's forests to date this season, compared with 230 fires to the same date last year.

Vancouver forest district, which includes Vancouver Island, had the largest number of fires, 31. By the end of last week only one small fire was left burning.

Opening of Show For Air Cadets Nets $100,000

Miss Jeanne Melchers, personal representative of Air Marshal "Billy" Bishop, V.C., who is traveling across Canada in connection with the stage show organized in aid of funds for the Air Cadet League of Canada, today met representatives of the league in Victoria and other civic officials to plan the ticket sales campaign for the show here July 4.

She was met here Monday by Major R. H. B. Ker, chairman of the B.C. branch of the league. Informed that the premiere in Toronto Monday night of the all-star trans-Canada show netted $100,000 for the fund, Miss Melchers expressed delight, adding that that sum was original quota for the Dominion.

"Now we will set a quota of $250,000 for Canada, and I don't think we will have any trouble getting it," she smiled.

The show, which will also be shown in Ottawa, Montreal, Winnipeg, Calgary, Regina, Edmonton, Vancouver and Victoria, features Anna Neagle, British stage and screen star, and other outstanding personalities of Broadway and Hollywood. They include Herbert Marshall, C. Aubrey Smith, Helena Pickard, wife of Sir Cedric Hardwicke, English actor, and herself an actress in her own right; Colin Keith-Johnson; Richard Gains; Richard Timar, star of the Russian Ballet de Monte Carlo; Victor Carrell, Chicago Opera Company baritone; Alfreda Wallace, Myrna McGill and Flight-Lt. Robert Cootie, Hollywood actor, recently in Victoria with the Western Air Command.

Herbert Wilcox, well-known Hollywood director, will produce the show.

CONTRIBUTE SERVICES

Receipts of the show will be devoted entirely to the Air Cadet League. Miss Melchers said, pointing out the actors are contributing their time and services and Noel Coward and other prominent playwrights have released their works for use in the show without royalty charges. Famous Players Corporation has donated theatres and equipment throughout Canada. Seventy-five per cent of the proceeds of the show in each city will be retained in that city for the local league, only 25 per cent going to national headquarters. The fund will be used to buy equipment and uniforms for the newly-formed league, which is a training group for the youth of Canada for the R.C.A.F.

Auburn-haired, tall, slight and attractive, Miss Melchers has quite a career in her own right. A research expert and magazine editor, this is her first trip across Canada "and I love it," she exclaimed. She was impressed by the quiet atmosphere of Victoria and by the apparent realization of war in the west.

"In the east you hear much talk about it, but out here people seem to be more determined, with less noise and talk," she said. She was born of Dutch parents in Montreal and has spent most of her life abroad. She left the Sorbonne University, Paris, two months before war was declared. "It was mostly because of pressure from home. People over there weren't alarmed. They had been living on the brink of war for so long, they could not believe it could really happen," she said.

RELATIVES IN HAGUE

Many of her relatives are still in Hague and she has received no word of them since the United States declared war.

"Before that we heard infrequently through the Red Cross, but it was so censored, there was not much satisfaction in it," she said.

RESEARCH EXPERT

In Montreal she created a job for herself as a research expert for the Dominion Stores Ltd., conducting investigations on the buying customs of housewives of Canada.

"It started by my getting a run in my stocking," she explained. She complained to the manager of a grocery store of the damage to her hosiery caught on rough corners of display tables, and then sold him on the idea of having a woman to supervise the layout and displays in the stores, as mostly all the customers were women.

"He tried me for three months, and I've been there ever since," she smiled.

This was her first association with celebrities. She explained that she got into it quite by accident. Famous Players Corporation had borrowed her to do a survey for them in Victoria and Vancouver, but a few days later the Japs blitzed Pearl Harbor and the deal was canceled as she felt conditions in the west would not be normal. Temporarily at a loose end she was persuaded by Air Marshal Bishop, who was a personal friend, to undertake to handle the publicity for his Air Cadet show.

ENJOYS HER WORK

"It has been great fun," she said. "Anna Neagle was the first stage celebrity I had ever met, and she was so charming. I was not the least bit nervous."

"I had to fly to Ottawa from Montreal for a luncheon engagement in her honor one day and forgot my hat in the rush. Someone lent me one, but it was such a horror I took it off. Miss Neagle noticed my discomfort, and went up to her suite and rummaged around in a trunk and produced several for me to choose from. It was most thoughtful of her and typical of her charming personality," Miss Melchers added.

Miss Melchers will return to her home in Montreal in a few days, Victoria being the last stop on her itinerary.

"I feel as though I'd never settle down again," she said, sinking into a chair, "or have a good night's sleep. I've galloped across Canada, never stopping more than two days anywhere. Next time, I'll take my time."

"And," she added, glancing vindictively at her well-postured trunk, "I'm going to burn that thing when I get home."

Major Kerr and a committee entertained her at luncheon today at the Empress Hotel and this afternoon she met members of the ladies' committees in charge of ticket sales.

Conclude Hearings In Labor Disputes

Judgment was reserved by Magistrate H. C. Hall in City Police Court today on the charge against the Standard Steam Laundry Ltd. of an infraction of the Conciliation and Arbitration Act.

Today's hearing, the sixth since the charge was brought early in May, was devoted to the arguments of H. W. Davey for the defendant company and Claude Harrison for the Crown. Judgment will be delivered Tuesday, June 23. The charge involves alleged refusal of the company to negotiate with its employees on details of working conditions and wages.

Mr. Mayhew foresaw no possibility of final amendment of the Mobilization Act to implement the recent plebiscite before the end of the month. Whether the act in its new form was used or not, he believed it urgent that the

Government Moves To Aid Berry Men

The B.C. government today moved to assist in saving the small-fruit crop of the Fraser Valley from spoiling on the vines, due to labor shortage, by co-operating with Chas. Henley, western representative of Elliott M. Little, director of national selective service, who has taken charge of organizing and directing operations designed to end the shortage.

Announcement to this effect was made by Premier John Hart, who stated that in response to a telegraphic appeal from fruit growers' associations in the Fraser Valley area the government had taken co-operative action to alleviate the situation.

The Premier said Mr. Henley "has been promised the fullest co-operation and support of the government and will be loaned several men and women well trained in this type of work."

All provincial facilities that may help to mitigate this problem are being placed at the disposal of Mr. Henley, and as a result it is expected the labor shortage will be overcome, the Premier said.

R. W. Mayhew Says

Needs of War Forcing Wooden Shipbuilding

The need for merchant ships to carry supplies to the different battlelines, and particularly to Europe for any second front which is opened there, will force the government into construction of wooden vessels, in the opinion of R. W. Mayhew, M.P., home from Ottawa today.

"Two years ago," said Mr. Mayhew, "lack of machine tools created a bottleneck in Canada's war output. Today the shortage of shipping is hampering the effort. The government, I believe, will have to find means of securing the men to build the wooden vessels which can be constructed in this region. Steel ships will be given first call, but there is not enough steel to build enough ships. Canada will have to supplement its merchant fleet with wooden vessels, and the time to do it is now."

"Canada is well ahead of schedule in the production of planes, tanks, guns and shells, but the country needs bottoms in which to carry them. Canadians, and the world at large, realize this country has not fallen down on the production job. The strides that have been made, particularly in shipbuilding, in the last year have been beyond expectation. A surprising number of new vessels have gone down the ways in the last 12 months and that volume will continue to increase. But present capacities have to be expanded. Wooden ships appear to me the answer to that problem."

The Victoria member paid tribute to the harmonious relations in industry between labor and management, noting there was not one real strike in progress at the present. That, he said, was a fair indication of the manner in which industry was putting its shoulder to the wheel, ignoring individual grievances and getting on with the job.

CONSCRIPTION ACT

Mr. Mayhew foresaw no possibility of final amendment of the Mobilization Act to implement the recent plebiscite before the end of the month. Whether the act in its new form was used or not, he believed it urgent that the

B.C. May Prosecute Military Defaulters

Defaulters from military training face prosecution at the hands of Attorney-General Maitland's department he announced today in Vancouver.

Men of military age who fail to report changes of address, fail to take medical examinations after receiving call-up notices or who fail to report to military camps when called upon, said Mr. Maitland, may be prosecuted by provincial law enforcement agencies including the provincial police.

Of these we would be well on our way," he added. He told of the part the citizen's army of Moscow played in the defence of that city.

"What we need in Victoria," he continued, "is leadership by example."

government's hands be freed to take immediate action on the distribution of manpower to points where it was most needed without delay.

He urged Victorians to support the reserve army, calling on men here to work in the day and train in the evening for victory. Pointing out the production needs of the country called for sustained work, he suggested evening training of six or eight hours a week was a small price to pay for the security it promised in defence preparation.

With other national leaders he issued a warning over continued rubber difficulties for civilian motorists.

NO MORE RUBBER

"There just isn't any rubber available for civilian use now and 1943's production of the synthetic material will be needed for military uses. Civilian motorists will have to reconcile themselves to present conditions until the war is over, from present indications," he said.

Expressing appreciation of the manner in which Victorians with other Canadians had accepted gasoline rationing, he emphasized the importance of restricted use of that fuel, saying the government was standing by its policy of keeping tanks full for emergency use and taking no risk of letting domestic consumption leave stocks depleted when they might be needed for military use.

"It is unnecessary for me," he said, "to point out the possible dangers of raids on the Pacific coast. People here are aware the military authorities are doing everything possible to protect the area. But I would like to issue a special warning regarding fires this summer. Blazing forests are bad enough in peacetime. They are infinitely worse in these times of conflict when they can endanger not only lives and property, but the very sinews of production at a time when production must proceed at the highest possible rate."

Reserve Decision On Driving Appeal

Judgment was reserved Monday afternoon on the appeal of Theodore E. Bernard against conviction and a $30 fine on a charge of driving in a manner dangerous to the public on the Gorge Road May 8.

Bernard, through Stuart Henderson, contended he had not been driving dangerously, had not been drunk, although the provincial police constable who took him into custody had required him to leave his automobile parked off the Gorge Road and that he had swerved off the paved section of the highway when he had moved to the side to permit the police car to pass him.

E. L. Tait appeared for the Crown respondent. The appellant was convicted by Magistrate H. C. Hall in Saanich court.

OUTSIDE STAFF SEEKS HEARING

The Civic Employees' Protective Association, organization of city outside staff members, today asked the City Council for a hearing, under the Industrial Conciliation and Arbitration Act, on certain issues with which the association is not satisfied.

They covered the original application for bonus amounts under a cost-of-living bonus scheme, as submitted by the Civic Federation, the inequity resulting from the operation of the scale of bonuses instituted by the council, the nonpayment of bonuses to superannuated retained in service, and the application for holidays for temporary employees which was submitted to the council and subsequently referred to the finance committee and on which a report has not yet been given.

Another of a series of district A.R.P. practices will be held in the Fernwood area, District 2B South, Wednesday evening, M. B. Wellburn, district warden, and O. J. Hutchings, deputy district warden, will be in charge.

The area in which the practice will be held is bounded by Cook, Pandora, Foul Bay and Haultain Streets. Various "incidents" involving "casualties" have been planned. Some of the "incidents" in the test will require restoration of water supply by the destruction of mains by bombs, use of an inhalator in suffocation case, and removal of bus from a crater.

Messenger Sails For West Coast

Owing to wartime restrictions, marine missionary activities are greatly curtailed. Some of the boats, which, prior to the outbreak of hostilities were accustomed to running the waters around Vancouver Island, are either sold or tied up. This summer it looked as though the "Graveyard of the Pacific" would be neglected as far as a marine missionary was concerned. But now the sturdy little Shantymen boat, Messenger II, which for many years plied these seas in summer, will once again take up her duties until the fall. During the winter and spring she has been on the inside doing work among the Gulf Islands as far north as Cape Mudge.

On the present trip, Harold Peters will skipper the little craft, with Frank Martens, local representative of the British and Foreign Bible Society, as companion. Although the Messenger is not a large craft, she has successfully negotiated many tricky places in her eight years on missionary service. There are very few holes or bays on the coast of this island and Gulf Islands, into which she has not stuck her stubby little nose.

The coming of the Messenger has always been eagerly awaited by many of the inhabitants of the rugged west coast. But now, as she will probably be the only mission boat plying these waters, the welcome will be doubly sincere. All friends interested in the movement of this boat who wish to aid her in any sense may do so by contacting J. S. Whiting, 1468 Hamblly Street, phone G 7882.

JAPS NOT ALLOWED TO FISH IN LAKES

The B.C. Security Commission has issued an order forbidding Japanese from fishing in nontidal waters of B.C., Attorney-General R. L. Maitland said today.

Some days ago B.C. Interior residents protested to the Attorney-General that Japanese youths were fishing in rivers and lakes of the Okanagan.

The Attorney-General today also announced receipt of a letter from Pensions Minister Ian Mackenzie stating that direct acquisition of property by Japanese in Canada is prohibited and that he is "confident indirect steps to the same end would be equally illegal."

Mr. Maitland some days ago wrote the pensions minister, B.C.'s representative in the federal cabinet, requesting that Japanese be prohibited from purchasing sawmills in this province.

St. Michael's Old Boys' Day

Old Boys' Day of St. Michael's School Saturday started well for the Old Boys. In the afternoon they played a cricket match against the school and fathers' team. J. Grogan and P. Salmon put on 70 runs before they both retired, while the next three batsmen raised the score to 110 before the side declared. The school and fathers then went in and made 60. F. L. C. Jones making 34. During the afternoon refreshments were served in the garden of Mrs. Woodcroft by the Mothers' Auxiliary to the Old Boys.

In the evening at 7.30 the Old Boys met in the private dining-room of the Douglas Hotel for their annual banquet, after which the president called on the head boy of the school, Brian MacLoughlin, to give a toast to the Old Boys, especially remembering those on active service, of which he said, there were about 140.

J. Napier replied on behalf of the Old Boys. Bernard Colley was then asked to give a toast to the school. He concluded his remarks by saying that all the Old Boys must have benefited by the high ideals set before them both in and out of school, which would make them useful citizens of the world.

The headmaster, K. C. Symons, replied for the school, giving a resume of the school year and how proud he was of the successes of the Old Boys in all parts of the world. Only that morning he was pleased to read in the papers that F. L. T. Williams had been mentioned on the King's birthday honor list as having won the Air Force Cross—one of so many honors and distinctions won by Old Boys in all parts of the world.

Special reference was made to the splendid work of the Mothers' Auxiliary, not only in helping the Old Boys' Association, but also in the work they are doing in making and sending Bundles to Britain.

It was also mentioned that seven boys sat for the Old Boys' Appreciation Scholarship and that the award will be made public later.

Telegrams, letters and good wishes were also received from Old Boys.

After the banquet the annual meeting took place and officers for the year were elected and much business transacted. The

Reserve Appeal Response Good

With 30 volunteers netted in the first day's campaign here for recruits in the Reserve army, the drive started its second day today with every prospect of exceeding that total.

The six Victoria units, all participating in the drive are the 3rd Canadian Scottish, the 114th Reserve Co. Veterans Guard, the 203rd Battery, R.C.A.; the 13th Field Ambulance, R.C.A.M.C.; the 1st Reserve Workshop, R.C.O.C.; and the Brigade Group Co., R.C.A.S.C.

As part of the campaign a parade will be staged in downtown Victoria tonight starting at 8.15 from the Bay Street armories with all units taking part in full uniform, led by the bands of the Garrison and the 3rd C.S.R. and accompanied by tractor-drawn field guns, Bren gun carriers and field ambulances. Route of the parade will be:

Armories on Douglas Street to Yates, up Yates to Quadra, along Quadra to Fort, down Fort to Douglas, along Douglas to Belleville to Government and up Government to No. 1238 at Yates Street where the salute will be taken by the D.O.C. outside the recruiting headquarters.

The recruiting office will be open all week 11 hours a day from nine till ten.

Veterans' Guard Needs Recruits

Veterans of the first Great War are needed for the 114th (Inf.) Co., Veterans Guard of Canada. The company was formed in September, 1940, and is composed entirely of veterans of the last war. It is representative of practically all branches of the service. Amongst the men serving, or who have served as privates, are quite a number of ex-officers, including nine from the infantry, two from the R.A.F. and one from the Royal Tank Corps.

The company wears quite a number of decorations, including one D.S.O., one M.C. and Bar, one M.C., M.M., two M.C.s, one M.B.E., one D.C.M., two M.M. and Bars's eight M.M.s, and a few foreign decorations.

They have given four officers to the active services, and two to another reserve unit. That the vets, as they are familiarly called, are still far from being a spent force, is proved by the number who can still qualify as rifle shots, by their showing at camp last year, and their enthusiasm for all branches of training.

The company is under strength, and any ex-service man, who can pass the medical inspection, is eligible to become a member, where he can be trained and equipped, to take his place in the defence of the coast.

For fuller information apply at the Armories, any Monday, Wednesday, or Friday night, from 7.30 to 10.30 or telephone E 6118.

Old Girls' Reunion

The "Old Girls" of Queen Margaret's School, Duncan, held their annual reunion over the week-end. At the business meeting on Saturday Doreen Smith was elected secretary of the O.O.M.A. of the school. On Sunday afternoon a confirmation service was held in the school chapel, when Bishop H. E. Sexton officiated. Those confirmed were Cynthia Leyer, Noreen Elliott, Delwyn Barry, Ina Horn, Christine Mackenzie, Sylvia Poole, Kathleen Hyde Lay, June Stokes, Joan Wellburn and Gwyneth Lloyd.

Jubilee Hospital Alumnae held its quarterly meeting Monday evening, with 45 members present in the Nurses' Home. Mrs. Duncan Smith reported on the annual dinner held in May at the Oak Bay Beach Hotel, also on the tea held at the home of Mrs. G. M. Duncan for graduate nurses. Mrs. Hall reported for the sick committee and Mrs. A. E. Acres on the flannel dance held recently at the Royal Victoria Yacht Club.

Mrs. Sutton will convene a Hal-lows-e dance in October. Mrs. D. Macdonald a rummage sale Sept. 13 and Mrs. G. M. Duncan a bridge at the Nurses' Home the end of September. The Senior W.A. requested all alumnae members save all used stamps and bring to the meetings. A refresher course for graduate nurses is to commence August 17 for eight days. Details to be published later.

Victorians Turn In 25,000 Records

A communication from the Victor Co. headquarters in Montreal, received yesterday, by the Kent-Roach Co. declares that their current scrap record collection plan has been tremendously successful. Old records have poured into the Victor headquarters from all over Canada at a rate beyond anyone's expectation.

J. C. Roach reports that the Kent-Roach Co. alone has paid cash under the Victor reclamation plan for over 25,000 records collected from the closets, basements and attics of Victoria. These records are needed to reclaim the shellac which is an important part in their fabrication and which is now practically unobtainable.

It is felt, however, that there must still be many thousands of records available and up till Saturday next cash will be paid in accordance with the Victor offer advertised elsewhere in this issue.

The great success of this record salvage plan indicates what can be done with the many other materials now so vital for war purposes. Rubber of every description, paper, cardboard, metals of all kinds, bottles—all should be brought in to the various Salvage Depots throughout the city just as these records have been.

To Enroll Pets In New War Club

The family pet is the latest to be enrolled in the war-effort. As a means of raising funds for its Spitfire fund, Gonzales Chapter I.O.D.E. has decided to form a branch of the "Four-Footed Fighters' Club," originated in England, and which has been responsible for the raising of thousands of pounds in the Old Country.

The idea was introduced to the chapter by Mrs. J. D. Laurie, Linklake Avenue. Mrs. T. R. Myers is convening the scheme for the chapter and is in charge of the distribution of the neat little tags which will be the proud possession of every "four-footed fighter."

The tags, made of a smooth celluloid composition, have been obtained from Miss Lee-Evans, secretary of the fund in England, and in a letter written regarding the starting of the fund here, she expresses the hope that Canadian animals will play a big part in helping to win the war.

The tags may be obtained from Mrs. Myers or from the Marjorie Library or the Pet Shop. The cost is a nominal one, and it is hoped all animals will soon be wearing one.

ST. MARY'S A.Y.P.A.

At the recent meeting of St. Mary's A.Y.P.A. the following officers were elected: President, Bob Jervis-Read; recording secretary, Audrey Kay; corresponding secretary, Joyce Waters; treasurer, Bill Brace; local council representatives, Bob Tolson and Dick Davenport; monthly convener, Dick Davenport; social conveners, Bill Brace, Marjorie Cross and Ben Hill-Tout.

The final meeting of the season on June 29 will take the form of a dance for members and friends. On June 22 a softball practice will be held at Windsor Park at 7.30 p.m.

Tea and coffee have a new value. Men have probably risked their lives to bring it to this continent.

Tea has to be imported from India and Ceylon, and coffee from the West Indies, Kenya, Brazil and Colombia in South America, so every pound of tea and coffee is carried to this continent by ships sailing through submarine-infested waters.

At one time 60,000,000 buffalo grazed on an area of more than 1,000,000 square miles in the United States and Canada.

Army Comedy Film Showing at Dominion

Are you a Colonna-fancier? Does the man with the marble eyes and the handle-bar moustache hand you as a big laugh as he does to countless thousands of radio listeners and moviegoers? If so, you're in for the time of your life when you see Jerry Colonna and his partner in clowning, Judy Canova, in their new Paramount comedy, "True to the Army," which comes today to the Dominion Theatre.

Colonna is field marshal of the pigeon coop. His sweetheart, Judy Canova, is a tight-rope walker who finds herself in a tight spot because she is the only eyewitness to a gangster killing. The gangsters want her, the police want her, so she hides away in Colonna's army camp.

CADET THEATRE

There was no change of title for 20th Century-Fox's "How Green Was My Valley," the current attraction at the Cadet Theatre, because Production Chief Darryl F. Zanuck had a ready answer for those critics who considered the title too long for theatre marquees.

The anti-long title critics wanted to retain the publicity value of the title of Richard Llewellyn's best seller, but were still anxious to shorten it.

OAK BAY-PLAZA THEATRE

Fourth and most terrifying of the "Frankenstein" dramas, "The Ghost of Frankenstein," is thrilling audiences at the Oak Bay and Plaza Theatres.

Sir Cedric Hardwicke is seen as a new Dr. Frankenstein in the new Universal drama, in which Lon Chaney portrays the infamous monster.

Other members of the cast include Ralph Bellamy, Lionel Atwill, Bela Lugosi, and Evelyn Ankara.

CAPITOL THEATRE

Continuing their line of film biographies of famous composers, 20th Century-Fox brings to the screen "My Gal Sal," the story of Paul Dresser.

In recent years, the nation has been treated to screen conceptions of the histories of such famous composers as Irving Berlin in "Alexander's Ragtime Band," and Stephen Foster in "Swanee River."

Previewers have hailed the technicolor film, "My Gal Sal," as the finest piece of musical Americana yet produced. The film stars Rita Hayworth, Victor Mature, John Sutton and Carole Landis. Irving Cummings directed the feature, which is now at the Capitol Theatre.

Mother 'Dies,' Recovers Later

LONDON (CP)—The British Medical Journal reported the "death" of a 25-year-old mother who recovered and ate breakfast in bed the following day.

Dr. Alan M. Easton, who attended her, said the woman's pulse and respiration suddenly and completely ceased after she gave birth. He immediately made an incision and grasped the heart. Rhythmic compressions and relaxation produced an almost immediate response, and for the first time in a period of between five and six minutes the pulse was again easily palpable at the wrists.

By morning she had recovered completely.
